BLUE HORIZONS BONUS - AFTERNOON TEA FOR TWO

Lucy Waldon and Kate Downing from Reader Offers recently got to experience the more-inclusive style of cruising with Azamara Club Cruises® and share their experience with Blue Horizons readers.

"Upon arrival at Barcelona port, we met our representatives and smoothly boarded Azamara Journey®. Our check-in cards indicated that we'd be on Deck 6 and we soon made our way to our stateroom to unpack, before going on to explore the ship.

As we walked from deck to deck, we noticed how spacious the ship was – despite being close to capacity with 600-odd guests on board, none of the public areas, nor restaurants or bars ever felt crowded. The ambience was so relaxed and this is something that was reflected in the decor: plush furnishings, dark woods and cosy corners, similar to that of a country club.

On our first night, we ate at the main restaurant, Discoveries, where we were treated to a three course meal. We then made our way to the Cabaret Lounge for the evening's entertainment. The ship's sextet sang and danced their way through popular hits from West End musicals, ranging from Footloose to Dirty Dancing – it was a high energy performance and really entertaining!

The following day was spent at sea and was a great opportunity to discover more of the ship's facilities. The Windows Cafe was the perfect place to sample breakfast, with alfresco seating to take in the sea air, should you choose. The sun was shining and many were out on the pool deck basking in the rays but there's plenty of sun loungers so there's no need to rush or reserve yours.

Throughout the day there was lots going on, including trivia, destination talks and there was a buzz coming from the casino. The Drawing Room is an ideal place to unwind with a book. Designed to look like a living room, the chairs were so comfy and the bookshelves, well-stocked – there was even a chess board.

In the evening, our group was split into two as we sampled the speciality restaurants on board. One half went to Prime C, which specialises in steak; while the rest of us went to the Italian, Aqualina. It really was like a taste of Sicily, from the beautiful Mediterranean-inspired decor, to the menu which consisted of four expertly-prepared courses. The highlight was the Dover Sole, which had come highly recommended and was filleted at the table. It was divine and even rivalled fish I'd eaten on the Portuguese coast and Lake Garda.

In January, Azamara Journey® will be going into dry dock for three weeks, with Azamara Quest® also being re-furbished in March – but as we explored many of the public areas, dined in the restaurants and relaxed in our stateroom, the ship didn't look in need of a spruce. On our seminar at sea, we were lucky enough to find out more details about the re-furb and even got to see some computer generated images of how each area will look. It all looks very exciting and will be interesting to see it once complete."

To join Azamara Journey® in 2018 and combine your cruise with the FIFA World Cup, please see pages 34-35.

Jane ARCHER

Jane Archer is one of the UK's leading cruise journalists and the Daily Telegraph Travel's cruise expert. She has been sharing her experiences with Blue Horizons' readers for ten years.

THE KING OF CASUAL

It's not often you go to a restaurant and watch your chef juggle with knives and toss eggs into his hat while singing 'Here We Go'. But you can on a Norwegian Cruise Line's ship. If that sounds familiar, you've obviously dined in Teppanyaki, one of the liveliest restaurants on the high seas.

It is also one of the most popular, which is why it was top of my list of places to eat on a cruise from New York to Florida and the Bahamas on Norwegian Breakaway at the end of last year.

It was my first time on Breakaway since a rushed couple of nights when it came out of the shipyard in 2012; with three and a half days at sea, this was a chance to get a real feel for the Freestyle life on board a Norwegian ship.

I know it's not to everyone's taste but it suited me perfectly. No dressing up, no fixed dining, just super casual with lots to do and a choice of places to eat. I was with my daughter and we tried everything – well almost. I confess I didn't pluck up the courage for the Freefall water slide where you are dropped through a trapdoor into the ride. My excuse is that the weather was never quite warm enough for me to get into my swimsuit, and I'm sticking to it!

We tackled the ropes course, sweated in the sauna and steam room in the thermal suite at the front of the ship, and also went into the salt room, said to help reduce stress and breathing problems. I had neither, but it was a good place to cool down.

We froze in the ice bar – surely one of the most wacky features on a cruise ship. I mean honestly, why would you pay to go into a room that's minus 8 degrees? The answer is that it appealed to my sense of the ridiculous and at least the cost ($20 per person) includes a poncho, woolly gloves and two vodka drinks – served in ice glasses of course – to help warm your spirits!

We tested our knowledge in quizzes – everything from movies to rock bands – were impressed by the acrobats in the Spiegel Tent's jungle-themed dinner show and saw Norwegian's version of the musical Rock of Ages. We sang along with rocking pianists in Headliners and laughed at improvisation comedy group Second City. It's an American company so I wasn't sure the humour would translate to a British audience but we saw several shows, both the family and adult ones, and all were very funny without being smutty.

I wasn't keen on being organised but my daughter decided to book seats for the shows (easily done on the interactive cabin TV) and I have to admit it was a good idea as we saw everything we wanted without having to queue or stand at the back because the venues were full.

And then there were all those places to eat. We tried the Shanghai noodle bar (perfect for a light dinner after a big lunch), had that memorable dinner in the Teppanyaki and tried the churrascaria, a carnivore's dream where passadors (the Brazilian name for the waiters) wander around the tables with meat on skewers. Show a green mat when you want some, a red one when you've had enough.

We also dined in Cagney's, a top-notch steakhouse and clear favourite with the other, mainly American, passengers, and La Cucina, an Italian restaurant. I had spaghetti with chilli flakes and was pleasantly surprised at how tasty it was. My only complaint there was that the service was too fast.

All except the noodle bar cost extra so eating out Norwegian-style can make a dent in the budget. Dining packages help. Individually the four restaurants we ate in would have cost around £65 per person, but a four meal package costs around £55, saving £10 per person. A word of warning – the cost is charged to your credit card as soon as it is booked rather than to your on board account.

We also discovered that the best burgers were served in the Uptown grill on the top deck (tip: they are cooked to order so avoid lunchtimes on sea days as it gets so busy), while the best place for breakfast was O'Sheehan's.

You don't get as much choice as in the buffet, but the waiter service and hot dishes made this a perfect start to the day. I know you get both if you breakfast in the dining room, but O'Sheehan's stayed open later and we liked the smaller venue and a more personal service. And you get that at no extra charge, which is definitely a bonus!

THE GREAT ESCAPE

So there I was on Breakaway, admiring the view of Nassau from my balcony window, when who should pull in alongside, but Norwegian Escape. Two weeks earlier I had been on her in Southampton; three days earlier, in a break from the tradition of female godmothers, she had been christened in Miami by singer Armando Christian Perez, aka Pitbull.

Escape is similar to Breakaway, but with an extra deck so it holds 4,200 passengers instead of 3,963. The ice bar has been replaced with a wine bar – you can still get your chills, but in a snow room in the thermal suite instead of a bar – and in place of Breakaway's fishy Ocean Blue Restaurant, Bayamo serves Spanish fare. There's a bigger ropes course, two planks to walk over the side of the ship and a redesigned kids' club.

The biggest change is the new District Brew House, which serves 74 different beers, and Food Republic, where instead of courses you order dishes from an iPad and they are served at random for everyone on the table to share. It's already so popular, the bosses at Norwegian are considering rolling it out to their other ships. As they say, watch this space.

SEASON

We are delighted to offer readers a fantastic opportunity to take a close-up look at the world's most fascinating and charming continent – Antarctica. There are more penguins, and penguin species here than anywhere else on Earth. Elephant and fur seals, minke whales, large flocks of sea birds – not forgetting the wandering albatross – give life to this surrealistic and beautiful landscape.

On board MS Midnatsol, one of the most comfortable expedition platforms, you'll enjoy presentations from experts as she embarks on her maiden season in Antarctica. As you sail past Cape Horn twice, you'll have two chances of stepping ashore, offering a unique opportunity. Book today to embark on a close and genuine experience of the Chilean coast and the White Continent.

19 NIGHTS DEPARTING 4TH DECEMBER 2016

DECEMBER 2016

- Sun 4 Fly from London to Santiago, Chile
(regional and premium class flights available on request[±])
- Mon 5 Santiago, Chile
Upon arrival, transfer to your hotel[±] for a two night stay
- Tue 6 Explore Santiago, Chile at your leisure
- Wed 7 Santiago/Punta Arenas, Chile
Transfer to the airport and fly to Punta Arenas. Upon arrival, transfer to the port and embark MS Midnatsol for your 14 night voyage
- Thu 8 -
Sat 10 Chilean Fjords/Tierra del Fuego
(possible landing sites Puerto Williams, Cape Horn)
Sail in one of the world's most remote, undisturbed and beautiful places. The Magellan Strait separates the American continent from Tierra del Fuego and is the main gateway to the continent of Antarctica. The Beagle Channel was named after the ship which carried Charles Darwin on his voyage of discovery – HMS Beagle. Near the southern tip of Chile the southern Andes mountains plunge into the icy water and leave a region which is so wild and remote that it seems almost undisturbed. In these Chilean fjords, the ice has scoured its way between the mountains, leaving isolated islands and hidden bays. If the weather permits, you will anchor off Cape Horn, where you will be able to leave the ship to explore this deserted and yet romantic piece of land at the end of the world

Sun 11 CROSSING DRAKE PASSAGE

The Drake Passage connects the southern Atlantic and Pacific oceans. Here the warm water from the north meets the cold, less salty water from the south. This makes the ocean particularly rich in nutrients and is the basis of the unique marine life here. Whilst you cross the sea towards Antarctica, a number of presentations will be given on board about various aspects of the history and wildlife of the Antarctic

Mon 12 - Sat 17 Antarctica (possible landing sites Half Moon Island, Yankee Harbour, Neko Harbour, Station Brown, Cuverville Island)

Antarctica – isolated by ocean currents from the rest of the world. 99 percent of all ice is here, 4,000 metres thick, burdening down the landmass. In winter; isolated even further by the sea ice forming off the coast – virtually “doubling the size” of the continent. In summer; a breeding ground for millions of penguins, whales and seals that for the rest of the year simply spend their time at sea. Most wildlife thrive on the cornerstone species; krill. The krill population in the Southern Ocean represents the largest biomass from one species on Earth – including human beings. While in Antarctica, you will attempt to land on several sites. On land, the expedition team will explain what you see and help you avoid disturbing nature and wildlife

Sun 18 CROSSING DRAKE PASSAGE

With the bow pointed north and unforgettable images and experiences in your soul, you will enjoy a new understanding of the Antarctic and Chile. During the voyage enjoy lectures summarising the Antarctic themes

ANTARCTICA HIGHLIGHTS

HALF MOON ISLAND, SOUTH SHETLAND ISLANDS

Half Moon presents many photographic opportunities with its wildlife posed against scenic backgrounds and Antarctic highlights. Weather and conditions permitting you may enjoy a hike passing the Teniente Camara Station and on to a view point that is a popular place to look for whales in the bay facing towards the Bransfield Strait.

YANKEE HARBOUR, SOUTH SHETLAND ISLANDS

The main attraction for many visitors is Yankee's terraced Gentoo penguin colony with an estimated 4,000 breeding pairs. Predatory skuas also nest here and travellers are often witness to the struggle between a penguin protecting its young and a skua trying to feed theirs.

NEKO HARBOUR

The bay is surrounded by mountains and alpine glaciers where its wildlife provides the perfect photo opportunity. Neko is one of the very few places on the Antarctic Peninsula where one can come ashore on the Antarctic mainland. On land there is a colony of Gentoo penguins.

CUVERVILLE ISLAND

Here lie the islands of Danco and Cuverville, the latter being home to one of the largest known colonies of chinstrap penguins. The shallow water between the islands often causes icebergs to become stuck here, offering a fantastic spectacle when it occurs.

Please note these landing sites are not guaranteed and are weather permitting

- Mon 19 - Chilean Fjords (possible landing sites Cape Horn, Puerto Williams)
- Tue 20 If weather permits you may visit Puerto Williams, one of the world's southernmost towns that lies on the little island of Navarino. It is only the narrow Beagle Channel which divides it from the Argentinian Tierra del Fuego, where high, snow covered peaks create a monumental background

MACHU PICCHU

The Incas left legends of forgotten cities and treasures, the most incredible of which is Machu Picchu. It lay hidden from the world until its rediscovery by the American explorer Hiram Bingham in 1911. The site consists of more than 200 buildings of perfectly chiselled unmortared stone, as well as baths, temples, altars and houses constructed in terraces and connected by stairways carved from solid rock.

Time permitting, you may wish to hike (unguided) up to Intipunku (Sun Gate), which is located on a flank of the Machu Picchu mountain and offers great views over the site.

European Destinations

The beauty of cruising is that you can visit so many different places in just one single trip, and this is certainly true of European itineraries. Seek inspiration for your next adventure below with our top pick of locations from this cultural continent.

1 Canary Islands

Sitting off the coast of north-west Africa, the Canary Islands are an all-year-round destination known for glorious sunshine and warm temperatures. Perfect for rest and relaxation, with countless sandy coves and seafront resorts, the desirable surroundings attract visitors again and again. Aside from the picture postcard locations, the islands also have their own distinctive characteristics, with volcanic mountains, lava fields and pine forests all waiting to be explored. The largest of them, Tenerife, is home to Mount Teide, which lies in Teide National Park and is one of the largest volcanoes in the world.

Italy 2

As a peninsula extending into the Mediterranean Sea, often described as a high-heeled boot, Italy has a beautiful and extensive coastline. However, it is the cities which draw so many, due to their cultural and historical significance, and the ubiquitous delicious food and wine. The cosmopolitan capital of Rome has many picturesque streets lined with fashionable cafes, which contrast with the ancient statues and elaborate piazzas from the past. Similarly, the vibrant city of Pisa offers a lively scene, as well as Romanesque buildings and Gothic churches, and, of course, the famous leaning tower. When visiting the romantic riverside city of Florence you can be inspired by Michelangelo's David and the Uffizi Gallery, which houses works by Italian greats such as Botticelli, Leonardo da Vinci and Raffaello.

3 Iceland

Located in line with the southern tip of Greenland and home to the most northerly capital city in the world, Iceland is a remote destination, represented by its small population. Locals are incredibly warm and friendly, and endeavour to make sure guests feel at home and appreciate the awe-inspiring landscapes of their country as they do. Famed for the natural phenomena that is the Northern Lights, extraordinary experiences are not uncommon in Iceland, providing memories that will be cherished forever. Head into the great outdoors and see breathtaking glaciers and the famous Blue Lagoon spa before engrossing yourself in the exquisite food that makes Icelandic cuisine so unique.

Norwegian Fjords 4

Norway boasts some of the most beautiful and varied landscapes, mainly due to its mountain wilderness, which has been cut away by canals over millions of years. The fjords reach incredible heights with each boasting individual characteristics, such as majestic waterfalls or magical rivers. These tall cliffs offer numerous fantastic viewpoints, allowing you to truly appreciate the fairy tale scenery, such as the UNESCO World Heritage Site of Geirangerfjord. Tough conditions have shaped how people live in Norway and this can be seen in the secluded settlements, hidden in isolated pockets of greenery. While cities may be few and far between, they are particularly eye-pleasing and complement the unspoiled surroundings.

5 St. Petersburg

Built from nothing, this Russian port city in the Baltic Sea has fast become the country's second largest and demonstrates some of the finest European architecture to date. Baroque and neoclassical cathedrals and palaces give the city its colourful and grand appearance, which is accentuated further by the elegant canals. Simply walking through the streets will reveal the city's love of fine architecture. While Saint Petersburg is particularly stunning in spring and summer, the rich culture is apparent in all seasons, with world-class ballet and opera at the Mariinsky Theatre - one of the many highlights. There are also multiple attractions such as the Hermitage, State Russian Museum and the Church of the Savior on Spilled Blood.

The World Cup

The championship has taken place every four years since the inaugural tournament in 1930, except in 1942 and 1946 when it was not held because of the Second World War. Germany are the current champions, having been victorious at the 2014 tournament in Brazil.

The 20 World Cup tournaments have been won by eight different national teams. Brazil are the only team to have played in every tournament – and have won five times. The other World Cup winners are Germany and Italy, with four titles each; Argentina and inaugural winners Uruguay, with two titles each; and England, France and Spain, with one title each.

The World Cup is the most widely viewed and followed sporting event in the world – with an estimated 715.1 million people watching the 2014 final.

The 2018 FIFA World Cup will be the 21st FIFA World Cup and will be played in Russia from 14th June to 15th July 2018, after the country was awarded the hosting rights on 2nd December 2010. It will be the first World Cup held in Europe since 2006. The group stages will involve 32 national teams, with a total of 64 matches played in 12 venues located in 11 cities. The final is expected to take place in Moscow at the Luzhniki Stadium.

A two night stay on board Azamara Journey® in St. Petersburg on both featured itineraries offer a chance for you to witness a live game, either during the group stages, or knockout round of 16.

Maritime Memories

with Nigel Lingard
(Non-Executive Director, Reader Offers Ltd)

EVERY YEAR LONDON HOSTS THE TRAVEL INDUSTRY'S LARGEST GLOBAL EVENT, WORLD TRAVEL MARKET. FROM HUMBLE BEGINNINGS AT OLYMPIA OVER 30 YEARS AGO, WTM NOW OCCUPIES THE VAST EXCEL EXHIBITION COMPLEX FOR FOUR DAYS EVERY NOVEMBER.

The event is a chance for most of the world's tourism destination countries, their attractions, hotels and tourist services to showcase their products to an audience of over 60,000 international tour operators and travel agents. Each autumn, this huge influx of visitors certainly gives London's hotels a boost, although in typical British fashion our transport services let us down, with a DLR strike making access to London's docklands a nightmare!

For the Reader Offers team this was a chance to meet several overseas suppliers who were in London for the week – the partners with whom we work to plan the hotel stays, transfers and land tours which enable us to offer exclusive cruise-based holiday packages.

A classic example of this type of arrangement is our partnership with the Belmond group - owners of the luxury Orient-Express brand. Their Singapore to Bangkok four night rail journey, including a River Kwai Bridge visit, is on our personal list still to be ticked!

Closer to home, Orient-Express' iconic London to Venice service features in this edition, teamed up with a Silversea Adriatic cruise (see pages 46-47).

These trade events are of course an opportunity to catch up with many "old faces" and to find out what past colleagues and acquaintances are up to. Modern youngsters know all this from social media, but I'm something of a technophobe, preferring real human contact to keep in touch!

AS WE LOOKED AROUND THE ASTONISHING ARRAY OF EXHIBITORS FROM ALL OVER THE GLOBE, WE COULDN'T HELP BUT REMINISCE ABOUT THE EARLY DAYS OF CRUISE INDUSTRY DEVELOPMENT

As we looked around the astonishing array of exhibitors from all over the globe, we couldn't help but reminisce about the early days of cruise industry development.

In particular the Pacific Ocean region has become a reality from what was a remote dream destination, with cruise programmes now offered by many operators. Although Sonja and I have been lucky enough to cruise around the Hawaiian Islands and across the South Pacific, there is an allure to the tropics which will no doubt draw us back before too long! (See pages 26-27 for Oceania Cruises luxury South Pacific voyage).

Our first sea voyage of 2016 will in fact be overnight to Holland with Stena Line in January, but I'm sure warmer climes will beckon us soon!

SEABOURN TO RETURN TO Alaska FOR THE FIRST TIME IN 15 YEARS

Seabourn, the ultra-luxury, small-ship cruise line, has announced its plan to return to “The Great Land” of Alaska beginning in 2017. Responding to high guest demand and having not deployed a ship there for 15 years, Seabourn Sojourn will offer a series of 11, 12 and 14 day itineraries sailing from Vancouver, British Columbia, and Anchorage (Seward), Alaska.

Seabourn will offer unique voyages combining Alaska's most popular ports with rarely visited hidden gems of the Inside Passage. Taking advantage of Seabourn Sojourn's intimate size and nimble maneuverability, guests will enjoy a privileged view of The Last Frontier that larger ships cannot access.

“Seabourn’s return to Alaska has been a long time coming and highly anticipated,” said John Delaney, Seabourn’s senior vice president, global marketing and sales. “We’re looking forward to sharing with our guests the highlights of Alaska, from the mountains and glaciers to the picturesque frontier towns and amazing wildlife. But they’ll also see an uncommon Alaska, a side that few visitors ever get to see. No other line can show them in such ultra-luxury Seabourn style,” added Delaney.

Itineraries include visits to iconic sites, such as the towering virgin forests along the Inside Passage; the thunderous calving of glaciers and impressive humpback whales breaching in the Kenai Fjords; Juneau, the state capital, inaccessible by road; Ketchikan, the southernmost and arguably most-colourful town in the state; and Sitka, whose Tlingit history traces back 10,000 years. Interspersed will be visits to unspoiled hideaways such as Alert Bay, British Columbia, a tiny Namgis First Nations community offering rare insights into the region’s aboriginal cultures; and Klemtu, a small island outpost in the Inside Passage.

In spots such as Misty Fjords and the hauntingly beautiful Tracy Arm, guests will be able to explore wildlife-rich waterways, forested mountain vistas and lacy waterfalls up close via Ventures by Seabourn, an innovative optional programme of Zodiac and kayak excursions led by Seabourn Sojourn's expedition team of naturalists, science, wildlife and historical experts. The same expedition team will be on hand on deck, pointing out, interpreting and enhancing desirable locations.

In addition, each of the new 11, 12 and 14 day cruises will include complimentary Seabourn all-weather jackets; inspiring Seabourn Conversations with special on board guest speakers; opportunities for frequent wildlife sightings from the ship and shore; and “Caviar on the Ice” deck party and other special deck events.

Complimentary GROUSE MOUNTAIN & CAPILANO SUSPENSION BRIDGE TOUR FOR ALL BOOKINGS^x

The Capilano Suspension Bridge is Vancouver's oldest attraction and offers a great way to see the Capilano River as you walk across the 137 metre bridge, suspended 70 metres high above the ground. You don't need a head for heights as the surrounding forest is simply mesmerising and feels a world away from the city. You can also get a glimpse into the lives of BC's

First Nations people and the connection between their culture and the natural world. The Cliffwalk is the park's newest attraction with a cantilevered walkway that clings to the granite cliff high above Capilano Canyon – the beauty of the surrounding landscape will offer a memorable experience. You'll also enjoy a squirrel's eye view of a thriving coastal rainforest from viewing platforms and seven suspension bridges in the Treetops Adventure.

Your complimentary tour also includes one of the best ways to experience the natural wonders of Vancouver – a cable car ride up Grouse Mountain. High above towering Douglas firs, breathtaking views of the city of Vancouver, sparkling Pacific Ocean, Gulf Islands, and snowy peaks unfold as you journey up the mountainside. Hike or take the chairlift to the best viewpoints and don't forget your camera so you can capture the stunning panoramas. No trip to Canada would be complete without seeing bears and here you'll find the Grouse Mountain Refuge for Endangered Wildlife, home to Grinder and Coola, the two resident Grizzly Bears.

- Remember to ask your Cruise Consultant what your Cruise Miles are worth and you can save money every time you book.
- Choose to arrive for your cruise refreshed and ready to go, by using your Cruise Miles towards the cost of a pre-cruise hotel stay with one of our preferred partners; it could cost you absolutely nothing.
- For every pound you spend with Reader Offers Ltd you will earn 1 Cruise Mile. Many of our customers have enjoyed a cruise for next to nothing by accumulating their Cruise Miles for a significant saving.

Cruise Miles can only be earned and redeemed when booking with Reader Offers Ltd. If you are a regular cruiser and are a member of your preferred cruise line's own membership scheme, rest assured that you will also earn any credits you are entitled to, even when booking with us.
