DALE MACPHERSON WAS LUCKY ENOUGH TO SAMPLE THE ULTRA-LUXURY CRUISING OF SILVERSEA AND SHARES HIS CULINARY EXPERIENCES WITH READERS.

"Waking up at approximately 7am, the sun was shining out over Sorrento and I was ready for breakfast. Freshly cooked fluffy strawberry pancakes, with a side helping of strawberries, a generous splash of maple syrup and two rashers of Canadian bacon – what a start to the day!

After spending the morning exploring Pompeii, I settled down in the Seishin restaurant to sample my first ever meal of sushi. Not knowing what to order I went for the sampler menu which consisted of 10 fresh sushi rolls. Before I knew it they had disappeared and the friendly waitress was asking if there was anything else I would like... 'Same again' came my response. Turns out I like Sushi!

After lunch, I retired to the top deck for a quick dip in the heated pool. Once I had turned into a prune I was drying off in the warm October sun when Frederick (my friendly bartender) brought across my drink of choice – a refreshing berry mojito!

Later in the day I returned to my Suite; an amazing haven filled with every amenity I could possibly want. I was even given a choice of pillow, in case the standard one wasn't to my preference! After a couple of minutes in my room my Butler gave a polite knock at my door and wanted to know whether there was anything he could get for me? Before I knew it a bottle of Disaronno, lemonade and some fresh fruit had appeared!

In the evening it was time for my reservation in 'The Grill'. Situated on the pool deck, I promptly ordered the 8oz New York Strip steak, but I wasn't expecting what followed. A volcanic 'hot rock' was brought to the table heated to 300 degrees, along with my steak. I loved the idea of cooking my steak under the stars. After leaving suitably full, I made my way to the Panorama lounge for a few more cocktails and a little bit of dancing!

Once home, it was time to get back to the real world, although a couple of weeks being purely pampered in ultra-luxury could be just what the doctor ordered!"

ROL NEWS: JANUARY 2016

KATE AND KIRSTEN IN OUR MARKETING DEPARTMENT RECENTLY GOT TO EXPERIENCE NORWEGIAN ESCAPE IN SOUTHAMPTON

"When we were offered the chance to join Norwegian Escape – Norwegian Cruise Lines newest and most exciting ship – for her inaugural cruise, it's fair to say we jumped at the chance! For it's not every day you get to discover the fifth largest cruise ship at sea and one of the most innovative ever built.

After dropping off our suitcases and with a deck plan in hand we headed out to navigate our way around this enormous ship. With over 21 bars on board choice was not limited, so we thought the best way to choose would be to see which one we came to first. To our delight this was The Sugarcane Mojito Bar! We then went to the Spa area which was incredible: the pool was beautiful and there was even a snow room, as well as areas to relax on heated loungers. Out on the deck, there seemed to be loads going on.

Back inside we eyed up all of the various restaurants. With 28 dining options to choose from, we were well and truly spoilt for choice so we thought it best to suss them ALL out first. Could we decide? The short answer is no. There's so much choice we decided to come back later and see where we could get in. After dinner, we managed to secure seats to the evening's Broadway show, Million Dollar Quartet – which truly rivalled any West End show we've ever seen!

After such a long day back to our staterooms we went. We feel so lucky to have been on Norwegian Escapes Launch, and we would thoroughly recommend travelling aboard her."

SEASONAL EXPEDITIONS TO THE BEAUTIFUL NORWEGIAN COAST

DISCOVER SOME OF THE MOST SPECTACULAR SCENERY ON EARTH

Enjoy a unique opportunity to witness the seasonal changes of the picturesque Norwegian coastline during Spring or Autumn. No matter which time you visit you'll experience unmatched beauty, action-filled adventures and unique cultures that will take your breath away.

Lofoten Islands, Norway

AND THE ST

SPRING HIGHLIGHTS

- Experience three seasons in one journey
- Sail into the spectacular LyngenfjordTake part in winter activities north of
- the Arctic Circle
- See unique migratory birdlife at this time of year

Travelling the 2,400 kilometres between Bergen and Kirkenes in spring is an awesome experience. The contrast between southern and northern Norway is huge. From Bergen to Trondheim you will sail through a lush and green landscape in blossom in close to summer temperatures. Further north in the Arctic region, winter struggles to maintain its grip. As you cross the Arctic Circle sailing towards the North Cape and Finnmark – it is usually full winter.

Summer and winter excursions at the same time^{*}

You can participate in a wide range of adventures. Experience winter excursions like dog sledging, King Crab expeditions and snow-mobiling in the north, fishing in Lofoten, bird watching and RIB adventures further south. You will notice that every new day brings a marked increase in both daylight hours and the greenery as you sail along the ever-changing landscape.

The taste of spring

FREE

BINOCULARS⁺

The on board dining reflects the true character of the coastline, adding to a memorable and distinctive travel experience. Enjoy fresh Arctic char from local suppliers delivered to the ship just a few hours before dinner. Other tempting spring delicacies might be cod, mussel soup, chicken leg confit and rose-flavoured strawberry dessert. On deck you can participate in cod tongue cutting and taste fresh prawns from local fishermen when you sail into the Lyngenfjord.

AUTUMN HIGHLIGHTS

- The autumn light, bright colours and clean air enhance the tranquil atmosphere
- Visit the town next to the Russian border and Hurtigruten's turning point, Kirkenes
- Cross the Arctic Circle

As summer fades, the first cool evenings summon the colours of autumn. The fresh and clear coastal air enhances the intense red and yellow that fills mountainsides, hilltops and woods. From the deck, you may see the sharp profiles of the highest peaks sprinkled with the first snow, against the background of an ice blue sky.

Visit a place that has fascinated visitors for centuries

The northbound autumn sailings include a visit to the incredibly beautiful Hjørundfjord. Majestic mountains surround this narrow fjord, and there are several excursions that let you explore this spectacular area.

Real food experiences

Autumn is harvesting time all over Norway, and you get a chance to taste local specialties like reindeer meat and cloudberries on deck. The seasonal menu offers the best local produce from the areas you'll sail through, like reindeer from Finnmark, salmon from Skjervøy and apples from the fjords. Nature's pantry is full of delicacies ready for harvesting, and the on board menu, activities and excursions reflect this.

During these brand new Spring and Autumn sailings you'll enjoy a unique expedition experience including:

- Expedition Team on board
- Possibilities to join the Expedition Team on hikes in some ports
- Lectures given from the Expedition Team every day including some out on deck
- Gather with the Expedition Team every evening and recap on your day's experiences
- The hikes are offered as a "Hiking Pass". Where the hikes will take place will be announced on board, and depends on the season, sailing schedule and weather conditions. There will be between 4-7 hikes during a full roundtrip[×]

CRUISE EXPERT JANE ARCHER

Jane Archer is one of the UK's leading cruise journalists and the Daily Telegraph Travel's cruise expert. She has been sharing her experiences with Blue Horizons' readers for ten years.

> Wellow to an exciting year on the high seas. Before taking up my quill to write this month's column I had a sneak peek back to last January's missive and my New Year's resolutions – namely to visit Australia, the Amazon, Cuba, the Ganges and journey to Venice on the Orient Express.

I didn't do badly. I managed three out of five among my many other cruises in 2015. Hopefully you read about my trips to Sydney and Cairns in Australia and the Ganges in Blue Horizons. The third was a fantastic cruise around Cuba, which looks set to become this year's hottest cruise destination.

But now it is time to make a few resolutions for 2016. The first two are easy. The Amazon and VSOE trip to Venice are still on my bucket list, but having seen the great new ships and cruises coming up next year I've added a few more.

Top of the list has to be Crystal Cruises' new island-hopping voyages in the Seychelles on the Crystal Esprit, the 62-passenger yacht that starts sailing for the company just before Christmas. I was lucky enough to do a cruise around the Seychelles in 2014 and they are truly heavenly so I'd love to go back.

I've also got my eye on Hurtigruten's new expedition cruises in Norway (see story opposite) and Swan Hellenic's voyage from Dubrovnik to Piraeus next October that includes a transit of the Corinth Canal in Greece. I've cruised through Panama, Kiel and Suez, so transiting tiny Corinth would round things off nicely.

Dubrovnik

Among my other travels, I'll be making time to see some of the new ships launching next year. There's an incredible line-up that offers the ultimate in luxury and some amazing features that stop you in your tracks.

Royal Caribbean International has twice the excitement, with two new ships launching. Better still, both will be sailing two cruises from Southampton when they enter service so we Brits can have the honour of being first on board.

First up it's the 4,200-passenger Ovation of the Seas, a sister to Anthem, which has skydiving, robotic video screens and hightech wristbands that are used to open cabin doors and sign for drinks. She'll be in Southampton in April, before heading east to her new home in Asia.

A few weeks later, we'll be welcoming Harmony of the Seas, a behemoth with capacity for 5,479 passengers and new features including the Ultimate Abyss, a 100ft dry slide that twists and turns as it drops 100ft from the Sports Deck to the Boardwalk. If you miss the boat (pun intended!) in Southampton there isn't too far to go as she'll be sailing from Barcelona in summer.

Holland America Line's new ms Koningsdam will also be spending her inaugural summer close to home after she launches in April, sailing from Amsterdam to the Baltic and Norwegian fjords. The ship has the honour of being both Holland America's largest ship and a mere half the size of Harmony (at least as far as capacity is concerned).

She has great new features including a Music Walk, where you can listen to the blues, hits from the US Billboard charts or classical works. There are also two new restaurants, Sel de Mer and Dinner, a Dutch café and Blend, where you can make your own wine, bottle it and then enjoy it with dinner.

If only the best will do, check out Regent Seven Seas Cruises' new 750-passenger Seven Seas Explorer launching in July. She is super luxurious, with all-suite, all-balcony accommodation and dining options including French restaurant Chartreuse and Pacific Rim, for Asian cuisine.

Sneaking in just before year-end is luxury line Seabourn's Seabourn Encore. The company is keeping details of the ship under wraps so all I can tell you is that she launches in December, holds 600 passengers in all-balcony, all-suite accommodation and will spend her maiden season in Asia.

MS Spitsbergen

HURTIGRUTEN GOES EXPLORING

Then there are the exciting changes on the way from Hurtigruten, the company that operates working ships along the Norwegian coast. Not only has it bought an additional ship, the 320-passenger MS Spitsbergen, but it will be offering new expedition-style cruises on her when she enters service next May.

MS Spitsbergen will sail from Bergen to Kirkenes and back, but she will cut out the night ports that Hurtigruten's other ships visit. That allows her to stay longer in selected ports by day so passengers have more time to explore ashore. It also gives her time to sail into Geirangerfjord, which will be one of many scenic highlights on the voyage north (Bergen to Kirkenes).

There'll be new guided walks and hikes ashore with an on-board expedition team. While sailing, they'll be lecturing about the wildlife, nature, history and geology of the places being visited.

In September 2016, Spitsbergen takes up traditional working ship duties on the coastal voyage in place of Midnatsol, which will be spending winter 2016-17 in Antarctica.

SILVERSEA'S LUXURIOUS ALL-INCLUSIVE CRUISES HAVE ALWAYS SET THE BENCH-MARK BUT THE ARRIVAL OF THE BRAND NEW SILVER MUSE IN SPRING 2017 WILL RAISE THE BAR EVEN HIGHER.

The world is bigger on a small ship cruise! Contemporary cruising's trend for ever-larger ships may mean sacrificing calls in to smaller, more enchanting harbours. With Silversea's intimate vessel size an overnight berth in the heart of the port means you will be staying at "the best hotel in town". The small, elegant ships offer an unparalleled space-per-guest ratio – both in their beautiful suites and their airy public areas. A uniquely personal level of care and service from the moment you board is guaranteed to make for the most memorable of holidays.

The Silversea Difference

ALL-INCLUSIVE INDULGENCE

The discreet attention of your butler, the wealth of knowledge of the sommelier and the informed table service from your waiter would all normally encourage generous tipping but on a Silversea cruise all gratuities are included in the fare. Likewise, complimentary refreshments, wines and spirits may be enjoyed in the bars and restaurants or in-suite if you so choose.

BUTLER SERVICE IN EVERY SUITE

Silversea offer Butler Service for all suites. Enjoy a "Welcome" flute of Champagne while your Butler carefully unpacks and arranges the suite to your taste. Once settled you will find your needs are always paramount and will be seamlessly indulged.

AN OCEAN VIEW FROM EVERY SUITE

Every suite on each of Silversea's luxury vessels enjoys an ocean view and, in nearly all, a private veranda will allow to you take the sea air, perhaps while enjoying an exceptional feast served in-suite, course by course, by your Butler.

FINEST OF DINING

As befits Silversea's Italian lineage, high class cuisine created with the freshest of ingredients is of the utmost importance. A fruitful partnership with Grands Chefs Relais & Châteaux ensures that the highest standards are maintained throughout a generous choice of incredible dining options on all ships.

Maritime Memories

with Nigel Lingard (Non-Executive Director, Reader Offers Ltd)

EACH AUTUMN THE UK TRAVEL TRADE MEETS FOR THE ABTA – ORGANISED TRAVEL CONVENTION... USUALLY SOMEWHERE RATHER EXOTIC I HAVE TO CONFESS! THIS YEAR'S VENUE WAS IN THE PELOPONNESE REGION OF GREECE, AT A NEW RESORT UNDER DEVELOPMENT NEAR KALAMATA.

With all the problems that Greece is enduring, on top of a global recession, we had to feel some sympathy for their efforts to draw tourists into quite a remote region with limited air access. Hopefully the 500-plus tour operator and travel agent delegates will be able to encourage more British tourism to this beautiful country.

The nearest cruise port in the area is Katakolon, which I recall planning as the closest access point to Marathon, one of Greece's numerous historical attractions with relevance to this day. Occasionally the Convention has been held in ports where a cruise ship call is scheduled at the same time, enabling agents to make visits. One year in Lisbon the Fred. Olsen ship Braemar was in port, so we hosted some dignitaries to luncheon. Later, when the ship made a late evening departure, it coincided with the Convention's closing party fireworks display – rather cleverly the ship's Master convinced his passengers that this was a special display just for them!

Another time we were all in Palma, Majorca, and Cunard had QE2 in the bay. Sadly one of those sharp Mediterranean storms blew up, preventing tenders from operating, so our gala luncheon on board was cancelled and we watched her sail away under rainy skies.

In recent editions of Blue Horizons we have noted the spate of new ship orders, and already some of these are featured in the new 2017 programmes now being launched – Silversea have their new "Muse" which will undoubtedly be the pride of their expanding fleet. To sail on her maiden season please see pages 34-37.

IN RECENT EDITIONS OF BLUE HORIZONS WE HAVE NOTED THE SPATE OF NEW SHIP ORDERS, AND ALREADY SOME OF THESE ARE FEATURED IN THE NEW 2017 PROGRAMMES NOW BEING LAUNCHED... Our friends at Royal Caribbean continue to grow their operations, with steel already cut for another (the fourth) of their giant 225,000 ton "Oasis class" ships, to be delivered in 2018; whilst following that in 2020 will be their fifth 168,000 ton "Quantum class" vessels. Now that's confident planning for you! To sail on board Ovation of the Seas[™] during her maiden season please see pages 28-29.

For those of you celebrating the festive season whilst on a cruise, I wish you calm seas, fair skies and a Happy New Year!

River cruising is a truly magical experience and we have a range of tailor-made packages, delivering you to some of South-East Asia & India's most iconic destinations. Take a once-in-a-lifetime journey to untouched Burma, explore the wonders of Vietnam and Cambodia including the mighty Mekong, experience the spirit of India or discover the wonders of China & Tibet including the legendary Yangtze.

Why choose a River Cruise?

There can be no better way of getting to the very heart of a country than on a river cruise. Travelling at a serene pace on a luxurious vessel, it is hard to imagine a more relaxing or enlightening way to see exotic parts of the world. Whilst on board, you'll benefit from exceptional service, attentive staff and the ultimate in convenience and on shore you'll enjoy insightful excursions led by knowledgeable local guides taking you to explore a wealth of riches, from sacred sites to working farms and traditional villages.

Vietnam and Cambodia

Lush paddy fields, gleaming pagodas, ornate temples, fishermen casting their nets, haphazard houses built on stilts, rice paddies, floating markets, vibrant cities and the friendliest people you'll ever meet... few parts of the world match the delights of Vietnam and Cambodia. In the hectic city of Ho Chi Minh City (Saigon) in Vietnam, you can visit the famous Cu Chi Tunnels, built by resistance fighters during the Vietnam War, and explore incense-scented pagodas and colourful markets. At Siem Reap in Cambodia, the largest Hindu temple complex on Earth awaits – the extraordinary World Heritage-listed Angkor Archaeological Park. You will marvel at Angkor Wat and the other spellbinding temples, such as the 12th century Bayon and the tree root-covered Ta Prohm.

Burma

A visit here is an astonishing dreamscape of colourful hill-tribe markets, decaying colonial streets, working pastureland, little-trekked trails and ancient structures, crowned by the remarkable Shwedagon pagoda in Yangon and the thousands of gilded stupa spires in sacred Bagan. The Irrawaddy flows through Myanmar to the Andaman Sea. Like a road less travelled after many years of isolation, the river beckons you to immerse yourself in the country's many untouched wonders.

India & The Ganges

The Ganges is the most holy of India's rivers for Hindus, who worship it as the personification of the goddess Ganga and believe that bathing in its waters grants remission of sins. This is a land of shimmering heat, red earth, saffron robes, jewel-bright saris, vivid spices and bright flowers and birds. Discover temples where total silence prevails; sleepy, time-warp rural backwaters and distant picture-postcard vistas thrown into soft focus by mist.

The Yangtze

In China, one of the world's oldest civilisations constantly collides with 21st century life so, at times, over a distance of a few miles, you will often feel that you have travelled through several millennia. Such moments occur on the Yangtze, where you may pass a fisherman in a traditional conical straw hat on a wooden raft with his trained cormorant; and also pass through the enormous five-stage locks of the Three Gorges Dam.

To experience the Rivers of Asia please see pages 46-47 or call one of our friendly Cruise Specialists to find your perfect voyage.
