SINGAPORE

A CITY LIKE NO OTHER

Natasha Chaplin, Concierge Sales Consultant, was recently lucky enough to be part of a trip to Singapore with Holland America and Seabourn, hosted by The Singapore Tourism board and shares her experience with readers.

"Our trip started in style, as we sipped a Singapore Sling on our outbound flight and upon arrival in Singapore, met our guides, before being transferred to the Pan Pacific hotel on the famous Orchard Road.

We began with a tour of the new Marina Bay Sands cruise terminal, which follows suit of the clean and calm feel that Singapore brings. It's clear to see how well organised everything is as well, with passengers' luggage taken curb-side, allowing everyone to embark the ship straight away.

We were lucky enough to see Seabourn Sojourn in port for the day and have a tour around some of the suites and public areas. The Wintergarden Suite was undoubtedly the highlight, with its gleaming bath on one of its verandas, wet bar area and indoor bar area. We ate lunch at Colonnade, the self service restaurant. There was ample seating at the back of the ship al fresco and the selection of food was amazing.

We were all in agreement that this was one of the most luxurious ships we had seen and felt reluctant to leave!

The following evening, Holland America Line's Volendam came into port and we were invited on board for a tour around the cabins and lounges. We saw a mix of cabins, ranging from an inside to a suite and all were decorated beautifully. That evening we dined at specialty venue: the Pinnacle Grill. I was served the most beautiful Filet Mignon cooked to perfection – it was the best steak I've ever eaten.

One of my highlights and recommendations from Singapore was the gardens by the bay in the evening. Twice every evening they put on a show to music with lights called the 'Garden Rhapsody' which is free to view. We all lay on the warm ground and took in this spectacle which was one of the most beautiful things I have ever seen. The trip concluded with a fabulous outdoor local Chinese meal and an introduction to the famous Singapore chilli crab.

The city has so much to offer in the way of food, culture and shopping – and I will definitely be booking another trip back here soon."

Embark on this brand new cruise for 2017 around our own beautiful shores on board the intimate Boudicca. A wildlife lover's dream, this unique itinerary is packed with vibrant nature reserves, sprawling wilderness, rugged countryside, RSPB birdwatching hotspots and even Sir David Attenborough's favourite place. This is an adventure of unparalleled proportions and incredible fauna you may encounter includes seals, orcas, basking sharks, golden eagles, dolphins, Minke Whales, puffins and Shetland ponies.

YOUR 8 NIGHT VOYAGE DEPARTS 21ST JULY 2017

Fri 21 Embark Boudicca and depart Liverpool

Sat 22 Tobermory, Isle of Mull

The picturesque Isle of Mull is considered the best place in the UK to spot white-tailed and golden eagles, plus while you're in the area, look out for seabirds, Red Deer, Atlantic & Grey Seals and elusive Eurasian Otters

Sun 23 Cruising Pentland Firth

Separating the Orkney Islands from mainland Scotland, the Pentland Firth is home to groups of seals and porpoises, with sightings of dolphins, orcas and Minke Whales from time to time too. Cruising the strait also presents the opportunity to view the intriguing, uninhabited islands of Stroma and Swona

Kirkwall, Orkney Islands

Kirkwall is surrounded by gloriously rugged countryside just begging to be explored. Attractions on the 'must-visit' list include St. Magnus Cathedral and the 5,000 year-old Neolithic village of Skara Brae. The islands' RSPB nature reserves are home to a variety of bird species, while Arctic Terns patrol the skies above and you may spot Basking Sharks too

Mon 24 Lerwick, Shetland Islands

The capital of the picturesque Shetland Islands is an unspoilt gem where you'll find a variety of wildlife in the wilderness, including seabirds, otters, porpoises, Minke Whales, dolphins, seals and, of course, world-famous Shetland ponies. Elsewhere, make sure you visit the archaeological site at Jarlshof; Clickimin Broch, which dates back to the Iron Age; and the ancient castle ruins at Scalloway

Tue 25 Cruising by Farne Islands

Scattered a couple of miles off the Northumberland coast, the Farne Islands boast unparalleled views of 23 species of seabird, including puffins, guillemots, razorbills and swooping Arctic Terns, as well as a large grey seal colony. It's no wonder that the islands became one of the first designated Sites of Special Scientific Interest in 1951. Plus, they've been declared as a favourite place in the UK to see nature at its best by none other than Sir David Attenborough

Wed 26 Southwold, England ★MAIDEN PORT★

The Suffolk coast is one of the wildest parts of the UK, and RSPB Minster is widely regarded as one of the best nature reserves in the UK if not Europe, so it's unsurprising it's the home of BBC's Springwatch. Why not spend your precious day here and try to spot a few of the 336 species of birds or the 37 species of mammal

Thu 27 Portsmouth, England

The city boasts an extensive naval and wartime history that's no more evident than in the D-Day Museum and the Historic Dockyard. From Portsmouth, you can tour to the iconic site of Stonehenge or Farlington Marshes, a flourishing nature reserve home to 125 hectares of birdlife and flora

Jane ARCHER

Jane Archer is one of the UK's leading cruise journalists and the Daily Telegraph Travel's cruise expert. She has been sharing her experiences with Blue Horizons' readers for ten years.

The Law of brochure launches

I'm not sure what the collective noun for holiday brochures is, if indeed there is one. A bundle maybe? Or a pagination? Whatever it is, it's been a bumper time for those of you waiting for inspiration before booking your 2017 cruise.

For us hacks, the best way to gauge if there is anything newsy coming up is what I call the law of brochure launches. If you get a press release telling you there are 'exciting' cruises coming in 2017 you can bet there's not much to talk about. If, on the other hand, the brochure comes out to a big fanfare, chances are there is some exciting stuff coming up.

And so it was that I found myself in a box at the Royal Albert Hall with the folk from MSC Cruises' London office watching a matinee performance of Cirque du Soleil. The link? Cirque shows will be on the new MSC Meraviglia when it launches in June 2017 (and sister ships coming out in 2019, 2020 and 2022).

It was such a treat. I'd not been to the Royal Albert Hall since my graduation many moons ago and forgotten how spectacular it is but more importantly, the show's acrobats were amazing. If MSC really can replicate that (and I'm told they are spending £20 million kitting out a vast aft lounge specially for Cirque), it will be amazing.

But there is no such thing as a free lunch. I was there to learn about MSC's new cruises in 2017 and 2018. And true to my fanfare: news law of brochure launches, they had plenty to tell us.

If you're into keeping fit, there's a new 'Wellness' experience that comes with perks including a welcome kit (shorts, t-shirt, sports towel and fitness bracelet), a health check with an MSC doctor, unlimited water and a complimentary body analysis.

For those not keen on flying, MSC Preziosa will be sailing six cruises round-trip from Southampton to the near continent (France, Holland and Germany). You'll be able to see the Cirque shows during MSC Meraviglia's one week cruises around the Western Med from Genoa (embarkation in Barcelona or Marseilles is also available) or spend up to four days in Havana on seven and 14 night cruises from Cuba on MSC Opera and MSC Armonia.

Also in the Caribbean, MSC's first new Seaside ship launches in December 2017. This is a new design of ship with an ocean-level promenade deck that has indoor and outdoor shops, restaurants and a buffet. She will be based year-round in Miami, where MSC is building its own terminal, and sail two week cruises around the Eastern and Western Caribbean that include a day in the US port halfway through.

For destination collectors, MSC Orchestra will be sailing 15 day voyages from Barbados with no sea days. You'll call at 13 islands but two are repeats so that will be a chance to take a break from the sightseeing if you're flagging.

But MSC can't hog all the limelight. Fred. Olsen's 2017-18 brochure launch at the London's Institution of Engineering and Technology was also noteworthy, both for the venue's spectacular views across the Thames at night, and the many new cruises the planning team has come up with for next year.

Fred's ships are sailing along more rivers, cruising into more fjords – not just in Norway but also Sweden and the Arctic – and hooking up with more special events to create mouth-watering itineraries that leave lingering memories.

Among the most notable is a 25 night voyage from Southampton to Croatia and Venice next April and a wildlife-themed cruise around the UK from Liverpool in July where you'll hopefully spot golden eagles, whales, sharks, puffins and seals.

Staying with the UK, the star-struck planners at Fred. Olsen have come up with a set-jetting cruise that visits places made famous by film and TV, including Poldark, Braveheart, the Da Vinci Code and Skyfall.

It's in August so the weather should be good, but for guaranteed sunshine, there's a 40 night sailing around the Caribbean from Southampton in October and cruises round-trip from Barbados on board Braemar that cut out the long voyage from the UK.

A right Royal day out

One thing that struck me about Austria when I was in Vienna at Christmas is how much the locals admire the royal family that ruled the Austro-Hungarian Empire when the First World War broke out.

A special exhibition at the Schönbrunn Palace in Vienna this year marks 100 years since the death of Emperor Franz Joseph in 1916 and a museum in the Hofburg Palace in Vienna is dedicated to Empress Elisabeth, or Sisi as she was known, who died in 1898.

And now a group of Austrian train buffs have recreated the Majestic Emperor, a train fit for a king that was modelled on one used by the royal couple but lost after the First World War. Last year the dining carriage was renamed Waggon Franz Joseph to mark the centenary of his death.

The good news for fans of river cruising is that APT has added a nostalgic ride on the train to a not-to-be-missed collection of complimentary and exclusive excursions on its 15 day Magnificent Europe cruise between Amsterdam and Budapest.

It's a day out with all the imperial trimmings – white linen, palatial décor and silver service – as you travel from Passau to Linz via Salzburg to top up on Mozart and the Sound of Music. Definitely one for my bucket list!

GRAND CIRCUMNAVIGATION OF SOUTH AMERICA

- NEW FOR 2018

This voyage will be the first time that Cunard has offered a mid duration voyage for those looking for an exotic winter escape where you can find a mix of relaxation and exploration. Queen Victoria returns to South America in 2018, this time offering more immersive destinations and visiting the major South American cities as well as stunning scenic cruising in the Magellan Straits, Chilean Fjords and Cape Horn. In addition to the exploration of South America, Queen Victoria will call at the iconic and relaxing destinations of Barbados, Jamaica and Bermuda and a full daytime transit of the Panama Canal. Privacy and intimacy live side by side with the sense of occasion you might expect of a Cunard voyage. Her unique facilities are amongst the most modern you will find and yet she has a special ambience so evocative of great liners past: with lavish on board entertainment including original musical productions and gala dinners, White Star fine dining throughout your cruise and a variety of Cunard lectures, your voyage is guaranteed to be unforgettable.

Celebrity X Cruises®

We are Liz and John Schultz and are honoured to be your ambassadors for this cruise and would like to briefly introduce ourselves.

We have been married for 46 years and have lived in Colchester since 1976. I, John, have run a successful business in Colchester and have recently finished working with Colchester United FC after 35 years, which included so many roles, including director and vice chairman. Liz is a keen golfer now the children have “flown the nest” and is very involved with her local golf club.

It was in my role as consultant at Colchester United F.C. that I first became involved with Reader Offers Ltd. My consultancy at the club resulted in Reader Offers becoming the Club’s main sponsor. At the end of the two year sponsorship I was invited to take up a similar position with Reader Offers and more recently mixed this with the ambassador role with my wife Liz.

Our first cruise with Celebrity Cruises was on the Celebrity Solstice and since this fantastic experience we have also cruised on the very popular Reflection. We are also regular visitors to Celebrity Eclipse in Southampton, taking groups of guests to see her in all her glory.

We know the Celebrity Solstice ships well and delight in passing on our knowledge and tips at the always popular cocktail party, which is a chance for us to personally introduce ourselves and offer any help you may require and of course for you to meet other Reader Offers guests. These get-togethers tend to start friendships which last long after the cruise is over.

The Celebrity Silhouette has so much to offer with West End quality entertainment, speciality restaurants, spa and adults-only solarium, pools, bars and of course The Lawn Club Grill where you can enjoy a picnic or take part in a game of croquet. Quiet areas are always available, including the library and the Celebrity iLoungeSM. Importantly there are plenty of comfortable recliners and hammocks to complement those sunny sea days.

During our cruise together we will visit some exciting destinations along the way, including; Rome, Sicily, Lisbon, Ibiza and Barcelona to name but a few. Some of these destinations are new to us both and some are our firm favourites which we are sure will quickly become yours too.

We can’t wait to welcome you on board and introduce you to everything that this beautiful ship has to offer you in luxury, quality and superb customer service.

We look forward to meeting you.
John & Liz

Maritime Memories

with Nigel Lingard
(Non-Executive Director, Reader Offers Ltd)

THE INCREASING GLOBALISATION OF THE CRUISE INDUSTRY IS WELL REFLECTED IN THIS MONTH'S MAGAZINE, WITH A REMARKABLE SELECTION OF CRUISE HOLIDAYS SPANNING ALL THE WORLD'S MAJOR OCEANS AND SOME OF THE GREAT RIVERS.

Of course the most popular destinations are still the Caribbean, with its guaranteed sunshine and friendly island life; the Mediterranean with its mix of cultural attractions in a sunny setting; plus the north of Europe with scenery and history in abundance both by the sea shores and along the banks of the waterways.

Those cruise ship operators with enough ships are able to offer a wide range of itineraries in order to keep tempting loyal customers back. During my time with Fred. Olsen we put a lot of thought into the breadth of the ship deployment, and I can see that philosophy still reflected in their destination-rich new programmes (see the 2017/18 launch on pages 4-13).

The Caribbean in particular has become an area with the greatest choice of vessels, from the small specialist lines such as Oceania, calling at fascinating little ports, through to the new mega-ships of the major four operators. These ships have become resorts in themselves; a good example of really trendy modern cruising being NCL's stylish "Breakaway" ships with their fabulous entertainment and activities (see page 31).

We've previously looked at the growth of business in the Orient, particularly China, and this process continues. NCL have announced that their next new ship to be delivered will be named "Norwegian Joy", and that name is a clear pointer to her role as a ship specifically designed to suit a Chinese clientele.

THOSE CRUISE SHIP OPERATORS WITH ENOUGH SHIPS ARE ABLE TO OFFER A WIDE RANGE OF ITINERARIES IN ORDER TO KEEP TEMPTING LOYAL CUSTOMERS BACK

The plus side to all this expansion is that even more ships are offering Far Eastern itineraries, so with airfares currently very competitively priced it is a great time to be planning that "trip of a lifetime" to this exotic area. One caveat, however, is that with ships being targeted to certain markets, it will be important to check that the on board experience is going to suit your tastes. One more reason to consult our experienced team at Reader Offers!

Enjoy your cruising!

Nigel.

The Pingxi Lantern Festival

While Chinese New Year is the largest and well-known Asian celebration, one of the more subtle and beguiling days in the Chinese calendar is the annual Sky Lantern Festival. In a blaze of luminous glory, 100,000 to 200,000 hot air balloons emblazon a full moonlit sky. Although the holiday is celebrated all across Asia, nowhere in the world is it more recognised than Pingxi, a remote mountain town an hour-long drive from Taipei.

ANCIENT HISTORY & OLD STREET

According to the elders of Pingxi, the Sky Lantern Festival originated in the Xing Dynasty, more than 2,000 years ago. At that time, bands of outlaws frequently raided the lowland villages, forcing residents to seek refuge in the lush, verdant mountains. Village watchmen used "fire balloons" as signals to inform the refugees that their houses were safe once again. When those hiding in the hills saw the celestial flares, they knew it was time to go home.

WATCHING DREAMS TAKE FLIGHT

The main activity is to buy a lantern, scribble your desires and ambitions on it, then send it into the heavens. The lanterns are made out of oiled rice paper, sheepskin, bamboo filaments, silk, or satin outfitted with a large candle at the bottom. As the lamps heat up, they take flight and linger in the air for as long as the flame still flickers.

TOP 5 THINGS TO DO IN COPENHAGEN, DENMARK

Copenhagen is one of Europe's oldest and most popular cities which undeniably provides an almost seamless urban experience. With a vast array of things to do and see including progressive modern architecture, delectable cuisine, canals and historical monuments, the ambience of this city is often a heady mix. With so much variety ranging from the edgy to the worldly in one place, how can you be sure that you are getting the very best out of your time in this Nordic capital? Seek inspiration for experiences that transcend all of your expectations with our top pick of things to do in this eclectic and diverse destination.

Louisiana Museum

LOUISIANA MUSEUM OF MODERN ART

Even if you don't have a consuming passion for modern art, the Louisiana Museum is not to be missed. This striking modernist gallery is a work of art itself – made up of four huge wings, it stretches across a sculpture-filled park and curves with the hillside. The art collection itself is magnificent: ranging from constructivism to minimalist art, CoBrA movement artists to pop art. Works by international luminaries such as Picasso, Francis Bacon and prominent Danish artists such as Asger Jørn are in residence and, with a vast exhibition itinerary that takes place each year, you are guaranteed to leave with a deep sense of appreciation for the artistic and the creative.

Tivoli Gardens

TIVOLI GARDENS

Often, the fairy-tale reputation that Copenhagen has precedes it, and what better place to reminisce than with a visit to the vibrant Tivoli Gardens. Dating from 1843, this whirlwind of a destination is sure to warm your heart – beautiful grounds, amusement rides, twinkling pavilions, carnival games and open-air stage shows are in abundance. But don't expect the usual gaudy carnival affair; this Nordic expression is one with a difference. Choose to ride the renovated century-old rollercoaster or spend the evening watching performances by international symphony orchestras and ballet troupes. Little else can compare to the romanticism felt when wandering through Tivoli and you are sure to warm to the fairy-tale-like qualities of this stunning place.

Local Cuisine

LOCAL CUISINE

Coined by Food and Wine in 2011 as one of three cities to watch for its “supercharged” food scene, Copenhagen is well and truly in the foodie spotlight - a visit to this capital would be wasted without sampling some local cuisine. First stop on your Nordic taster should be 2014's 'World's Best Restaurant', Noma - with dishes in step with the seasons and an innovative passion for fresh symphonies of flavour and taste, this popular restaurant really is one to tick off the list. Stepping away from the avant-garde and towards the authentic, Schønnemann has been lining bellies with smørrebrød (open sandwiches) and snaps since 1877 – expect hearty and warming food that washes down perfectly with a traditional beer. If progressive dining with a difference is more your forte, then look no further than unique seafood restaurant, Kødbyens. If the setting of concrete floors, industrial tiling and a 1,000-litre aquarium isn't enough to tempt you, then the Michelin-listed seafood should be enough to whet your appetite.

Rosenborg Slot

ROSENBERG SLOT

No trip to Copenhagen would be complete without a visit to Rosenborg Slot. Featuring 400 years of splendour, the stunning combination of turrets, gables and surrounding moat does much to heighten the city's fairy-tale essence. Once providing a summer home for King Christian IV, today the castle welcomes visitors as a museum which still houses royal regalia and jewels. The 24 upper rooms are chronologically arranged, housing the furnishings and portraits of each monarch from Christian IV to Frederik VII. But the real pièce de résistance is the basement Treasury, home to the dazzling crown jewels; among them Christian IV's glorious crown and the jewel-studded sword of Christian III. For your own slice of Nordic history, this stunning museum is not to be missed.

The Canals

TOUR THE CANALS OF COPENHAGEN

If you want to see this capital from a different perspective, there is nothing better than taking a boat tour through the winding canals of Copenhagen. The idyllic harbours and canals that meander through this destination provide an abundance of culture, history and intriguing sights and with a boat tour you could have access to it all. During these tours, you will be able to see the Copenhagen Opera House, Amalienborg Palace, Christiansborg Palace, the impressive Black Diamond Library and of course, the Little Mermaid monument. Not only this, but some tours have the opportunity to experience more than 250 years of bridge history or a half an hour sailing to historic Trekroner island, famed for its involvement in the 1801 Battle of Copenhagen and the bombardment of Copenhagen in 1807, where you can spend your time at leisure.

Singapore Rice Noodles

PREP TIME - 30 MINS
COOK TIME - 10 MINS

INGREDIENTS

- 2 tbsp groundnut oil
- 1 tbsp grated fresh ginger
- 1 red chilli, de-seeded and finely chopped
- 5 fresh shiitake mushrooms, sliced
- 2 tsp ground turmeric
- 100g smoked bacon, finely chopped
- 1 red pepper, de-seeded and sliced
- 1 handful carrots, julienned
- 1 handful beansprouts
- 100g cooked chicken, shredded
- 250g vermicelli rice noodles, pre-soaked in hot water for 10 mins and drained
- 1 tsp crushed dried chillies
- 2 tbsp light soy sauce
- 2 tbsp oyster sauce
- 1 tbsp clear rice vinegar or cider vinegar
- 1 free-range egg, beaten
- Dash toasted sesame oil
- 2 spring onions, sliced lengthways

METHOD

1. Using a wok or non-stick skillet, add the oil over a high heat, followed by the ginger, red chilli, mushrooms and turmeric, and rapidly flash-fry.
2. Mix in the bacon for 15-20 seconds, then continue to stir fry, adding cooked chicken, red pepper, carrots and beansprouts. Continue for 1 min.
3. Add the rice noodles and stir fry for a further 2 mins, occasionally tossing the ingredients. Mix in the crushed chillies, oyster and soy sauce and stir vigorously.
4. Adding the beaten egg, gently blend with the noodle mix for about one minute, or just long enough for the egg to cook properly.
