As one of APT's premier UK agents, Reader Offers are proud to market specially-designed river cruise packages offering passengers the chance to explore exquisite waterways in unparalleled luxury across Asia.

Commenting on the award, Andrew Say, Commercial Director said, "River cruising is one of the fastest growing areas in the cruise market and offers passengers the chance to experience truly remote destinations while still in the luxurious surroundings of a beautiful ship. Our team has worked hard with APT to develop some extremely exciting itineraries in the Asia region and we are extremely proud to have been recognised by APT in the shape of the Outstanding Achievement Award."

The Scenic Danube

Rachel Brinkley and Kate Faulkner from the Marketing department recently got to experience the luxury of a Scenic River Cruise. Here they share their Danube experience.

River cruising is a growing market and to celebrate our new partnership with Scenic we were delighted to have the opportunity to experience this first hand... And what an experience it was.

Scenic's state-of-the-art fleet and unique all-inclusive service means that they more than earn their award-winning reputation. Including Butler service for all guests, dining and beverages, handpicked once-in-a-lifetime events and spectacular experiences, a vast range of sightseeing experiences and activities that enable you to see what you want to see and do what you want to do.

On arrival to the brand new, modern and elegant Scenic Amber, we were greeted with a rose, a hot towel and a welcome drink.

As we were shown to our Suite our butler greeted us with a warm welcome and a bottle of Champagne as he showed us how everything in our suite worked, from the adjustable beds, to the ingenious 'Sun Lounge', where a touch of a button transformed the balcony into a sun lounge. All guests are provided a Scenic tailor-made GPS touring device which is used during guided tours, providing commentary on self-guided tours and whilst cruising the Rivers.

The following day we embarked on a guided morning walking tour to take in the sights, culture and history. The afternoon was spent cruising and later we were treated to a six course taster menu with wine pairing at speciality restaurant, Table La Rive.

In Salzburg we saw the Mirabell Gardens, Residenzplatz, Mozart Statue and St. Peters Abbey, before heading to Zistelalm Gaisberg for our exclusive Scenic 'Sound of Music show'.

With an overnight stay in Vienna we enjoyed a guided City Highlights Tour and a visit to the Schonbrunn Palace. The evening entertainment included an exclusive Scenic concert at Palais Liechtenstein – an experience not to be missed.

The next day started with a self-guided tour of Durnstein, 'the Pearl of the Wachau', before a short sailing through the scenic Wachau Valley to Melk and an escorted tour of Melk Abbey, before our exclusive Sundowners Event at the Aggstein Castle Ruin. And with a day sailing back to Passau we were able to relax and enjoy the scenery, before the Captains Cocktail and Gala Dinner.

The Scenic ships are modern, light, with luxurious fittings and thoughtful touches; they offer everything you could want. The crew and service could not be faulted – they were helpful and friendly. The excursions meant we could experience the destinations and the Scenic Enrich events are not to be missed! Our cruise with Scenic was nothing less than incredible!

As Her Majesty The Queen turned 90 last month, former Royal Correspondent and Cruise Miles Ambassador Jennie Bond has written a piece exclusively for Blue Horizons readers.

“So, what’s the Queen really like?”

It’s a question I’ve often been asked during more than 25 years of reporting on the monarchy, many of them as the BBC’s Royal Correspondent.

The answer is that she is an enigma to most of us. And that, perhaps, is one of the secrets of her success. She has kept her thoughts and feelings immensely private during a long life of extraordinarily public duty.

In recent years, though, the Queen has occasionally allowed us to see a little more of her true character. Remember how amazed we all were at the opening ceremony of the London Olympics when she took part in a spoof Bond sketch? And how her latest skit with Prince Harry and the Obamas to publicise the Invictus Games went viral on the internet? BOOM!

The Queen is becoming cool! And that’s important for the future of the monarchy.

To stay relevant it must evolve, stay connected and move with the times. And, even at the grand old age of 90, the Queen – a staunch traditionalist by nature – is doing her bit to modernise.

In all the tributes paid to her by her family during the birthday celebrations, it was Prince Charles.

who summed her up best for me. She was, he said, a woman of “shy determination”.

Elizabeth has always been naturally rather shy which, of course, is not ideal when your destiny demands that you mingle with thousands of total strangers every year. I’ve met her several times – at home and abroad – and I generally try to make her job easier by saying something light-hearted to help the conversation flow. I’ve done so with varying degrees of success – and failure!

When she was a child, Princess Elizabeth told her nanny, Crawfie, that she’d like to be a farmer’s wife. And, frankly, that would probably have suited her far better. She’s certainly happiest in a headscarf and some wellies, walking her dogs – or riding her horses.

And that, in itself, is incredible – how many nonagenarians do you know who could even get on a horse, never mind ride one every morning whenever possible?

One of her favourite weeks of the year is Royal Ascot in mid-June. She hosts a house party at Windsor Castle for her special guests

“The Queen is becoming cool!”

–mostly from the racing world. And, with hot water bottles hidden under the rugs, she and Prince Philip lead the carriage procession to the Royal Enclosure. A few years ago, amongst the cheers of the crowd, the Queen picked out a woman’s voice. The Duke couldn’t quite hear what she’d said. So Elizabeth – a renowned mimic – told her husband in her best South London accent:

“She shouted: ‘Ere Liz, giz us a wave’.

“So,” giggled the Queen, “I did!”

She is, in many ways, an extraordinary woman and, in my view, she has been an important part of the very fabric of our nation for the record-breaking 64 years she has been our Queen.

She shows very few signs of slowing down, even at 90. And I think she has every chance of following in her mother’s footsteps and celebrating her 100th birthday.

In which case, of course, she will have to send a congratulatory telegram to herself!
