★CARTAGENA DE INDIAS, COLOMBIA★

A romantic, enthralling and staggeringly beautiful city, Cartagena is one of Colombia's true gems. Home to the wonderful Santo Domingo plaza, Palacio de la Inquisición and 16th century cathedral, Cartagena is bursting with Spanish heritage. With plenty of beaches to enjoy and a number of open air cafés, Cartagena is a haven of relaxation.

★SALVADOR, BRAZIL★

The festival city of Salvador is one of Brazil's 'must-visit' cities. Known as Brazil's 'Capital of Happiness', the endless carnivals, parties and celebrations are a joy to behold. The city's culture and vibrant atmosphere are like no other and the blend of music, dance, food, drink and impressive architecture makes visiting Salvador a truly unforgettable experience.

★ARICA, CHILE★

Situated on the Pacific Coast of Northeast Chile, the port city of Arica is renowned for its year-round sunshine and warmth, beautiful dark-brown beaches and fantastic surf. The temperature rarely drops below 15°C and only 0.4mm of rain falls here a year – it's no wonder Arica is nicknamed the 'City of Eternal Spring'.

★BUENOS AIRES, ARGENTINA★

Enticing and exciting, the city has a complex cultural heritage inspired by a number of European countries. This complexity is mirrored by the diverse architecture, unique urban landscape and boulevards lined with cafés, shops and galleries.

A voyage of the idyllic Indian Ocean & beyond...

Gerald Buck, Cruise Consultant at ROL Cruise, was lucky enough to win a competition to join Fred. Olsen Cruise Lines on a voyage of the Indian Ocean. Here, he shares his experience...

Stepping off the plane in Mauritius, I basked in the beautiful sunny morning that welcomed us. After leaving the UK 12 hours ago amid rain and clouds, I couldn't help but smile (a little bit smugly, I'll admit) to myself. I was one of eight lucky Travel Agents to win this Fred. Olsen Cruise Lines trip-of-a-lifetime competition.

Whilst in Mauritius we stayed in a magnificent 5★ hotel for two nights. We also took advantage of the meticulously planned itinerary and excursions that Fred. Olsen had organised for us – available to all Fred. Olsen passengers, these exceptional excursions aim to enhance the destination experience and our first trip did just that. We were taken to a Mauritian restaurant to sample some local cuisine – but that's not all. The restaurant itself was located on a private island called the "Ile des Deux Cocos". We were taken to this secluded paradise island by glass-bottomed shuttle boat and spent the whole afternoon feasting and relaxing – bliss.

Having never been to Mauritius before, I was keen to see and experience as much as I could in the two days we were there, this included a trip to the Pamplemousse Botanical Garden which is the oldest botanical garden in the Southern Hemisphere. We also visited the Bois Cheri Tea Factory and Tea Museum and, perhaps my favourite place to visit, was the Rhumerie de Charmarel Distillery. Situated in the South West part of Mauritius, this rum factory is surrounded by vast sugar cane plantations. Our very knowledgeable guide took us behind-the-scenes of the workings in the factory and gave a detailed explanation of the rum making process. At the end of the tour, we were encouraged to indulge in the tasting of 20 different rums, needless to say I purchased a few bottles in the gift shop on my way out.

On day three, we embarked the beautiful Boudicca, and set sail – bound for the stunning islands of the Indian Ocean. I was lucky enough to be given a Terrace Balcony Suite, the cabin was very spacious and the décor was modern and contemporary, there was even a bottle of sparkling wine on ice, a bowl brimming of fresh fruit and every day at 4pm sumptuous, freshly prepared canapés were delivered right to my suite –

Everything on board was perfect.

We were also privileged to be given exclusive behind-the-scenes access to the Bridge to meet the ship's Captain, and the galley to meet the head chef, which really allowed me to appreciate the amazing work that goes into a Fred. Olsen cruise.

On day seven, we arrived at beautiful Praslin Island in the Seychelles. It was here that I visited the most idyllic beach I've ever seen, the Anse Lazio. When you think of the Indian Ocean and the Seychelles, this beach is the image that you conjure up – over half a mile of perfect, fine white sand and gorgeous turquoise waters where you can actually see the fish swim around you –

It's no surprise that this beach is often referred to as the best beach in the world.

Sadly, our time on board Boudicca was coming to an end. Luckily for us, our final night on board brought with it the chance to experience dining al fresco in The Grill. The food served here was the best meal I've experienced at sea, and all accompanied by the house band playing all the Christmas classics much to the delight of everyone listening.

I have no hesitation in recommending a 2018 Fred Olsen Indian Ocean Fly Cruise, especially the Christmas cruise and urge anyone interested to call ROL Cruise today to book yourselves a simply unforgettable holiday.

CHINA IN YOUR HANDS

"It is the largest hydroelectric power station in the world," Max tells us proudly, pointing to the piece of concrete ahead of us. Not that I'm not counting but it is about the fifth time he has told us, such is his excitement.

'It' is the Three Gorges Dam on the Yangtze River, the new Great Wall of China, some 1.4 miles long, 28 million cubic metres of concrete, 32 turbines kicking out 700 megawatts each, 100,000 cubic metres per second of water flow.... Basically it is massive.

Dams don't normally do much for me, but I wasn't the only one on this tour from the cruise boat Sanctuary Yangzi Explorer who found themselves enthralled thanks to Max's cheerful enthusiasm. He was Chinese, but like fellow guides has taken a western name because it's easier for visitors to say.

We had joined the vessel (the most luxurious on the Yangtze, a guide whispered to me) the previous evening and had been up on deck bright and early that morning to sail through the first of three gorges that promised to be the highlight of this four night cruise from Yichang to Chongqing.

It's a short trip, but a welcome moment to relax during this marathon tour of China that visit Beijing, Shanghai and Xi'an (the latter to see an amazing full-size army that was modelled from clay more than 2,000 years ago to protect the Emperor Qin in the afterlife) and get a glimpse of life outside the big cities.

I was travelling with Wendy Wu, a holiday company that knows all about China (and which, incidentally, you can book through ROL Cruise). As I have been to Shanghai and Xi'an before, they put together a special itinerary for me that started in Beijing and included a couple of days in Chongqing at the end of the cruise.

Beijing, the capital, is breathtaking in terms of both its size and energy. "It takes four hours to drive from north to south," Jade, my guide, told me proudly as we hit another snarl-up

Wu Gorge

Chongqing

Sailing through the Shennong Stream

rock faces. In Wu Gorge, we were told to look out for the mysterious 12 peaks that legend has it were once wicked dragons that were slain by a goddess and turned to stone. Unfortunately, the mist was so thick we couldn't actually see them - or indeed the goddess who sits on top of one of them, having also turned herself into stone to watch over the boatmen below - but it added to the mystery. Sort of.

Over the course of four days, we sailed through the dam's five locks (it takes about three hours), learned about Chinese medicine, had a go at making dumplings, visited a local market in Fengdu City and saw coffins hanging up on rocky cliffs (I'm still trying to work out how they got there!). Rather too often we passed ugly high-rise cities built to carvings, many up to 23 feet high, all chiselled out some 800 years ago to show the life and death of Buddha and the horrors of hell. It was like being in an art gallery, except instead of canvas the pictures are carved into a U-shaped rock face.

Pandas, Chongqing zoo

driving from the airport to the city. Quietly, I wondered if that was because you spend so much time in traffic jams.

Some 80,000 people a day visit the Forbidden City and I'll swear they were all there next morning as Jade and I walked through Tiananmen Square (the biggest square in the world!) and into the palace complex where emperors from the Ming and Qing Dynasty lived, surrounded by hundreds of wives. I'm sure their lives were far better than the women on the outside, but even when they had been superseded by a new model, the wives were never allowed to leave. Not surprisingly then, it is the biggest palace complex in the world.

I love Beijing – it is lively, buzzing and full of drivers who think stopping at red lights is optional – but after a couple of days I was ready to escape to the peace and quiet of the river.

As Sanctuary Yangzi Explorer sailed through the Three Gorges – Xiling, Wu and Qu Tang – our Tour Manager Willy was out on deck telling us about the river, which is the third-longest in the world and was once so wild that, before the advent of engines, men formed human tractors and pulled their boats upriver.

The scenery is dramatic. Forested in some places, surrounded by steep cliffs in others, houses here and there, and perilous-looking roads clinging to the rehouse some 1.3 million people whose homes were flooded when the river was dammed.

Dazu rock carvings

Then, suddenly, we were sailing into Chongqing, a city of skyscrapers and neon lights that most river cruise passengers just pass through on their way somewhere else, but where Wendy Wu had arranged for guide Nettie to take me to see the Dazu rock carvings some 90 minutes drive outside the city.

They were spectacular. Around 10,000

That evening, Nettie introduced me to hot pot, a dish that originated in Chongqing and is literally a pot of spicy broth that sits on a hob in front of you, in which you cook meat, fish or veg as you prefer (I went vegetarian for the evening and it was delicious) and next day took me to the city zoo. It's not a place I'd normally choose to visit but we were going to see pandas so I couldn't resist. I watched for ages as a mischievous young cub tried to get his sisters to play by sitting on them. Cute? That doesn't even get close!

INDEPENDENCE DAY

In 1775, the people of New England began fighting the British for their independence and on 2nd July 1776, the Congress secretly voted for independence from Great Britain. The Declaration of Independence was signed a month later. The first depiction of how Independence Day would be celebrated was in a letter from John Adams to his wife Abigail on 3rd July 1776. He described "pomp and parade, with shows, games, sports, guns, bells, bonfires and illuminations" throughout the United States.

A ONCE-IN-A-LIFETIME OPPORTUNITY

Commonly known as the Fourth of July, today Independence Day is a federal holiday in the United States where celebrations include fireworks, parades, barbecues, carnivals, sports games and much more. Whether you opt for Central Park or a rooftop bar, you're sure to catch a spectacular view of dazzling fireworks and soak up the electric atmosphere of New York's renowned celebrations.

Japan's third-largest city may appear brash and bold at first, but look beyond the neon lights, vivid shop-fronts and busy streets and you'll find a confident and stylish city. Not only is Osaka home to fabulous shopping and eating opportunities, but it's an ideal base for exploring the Kansai region which includes Kyoto's World Heritage Sites, Nara's temple and Koya-san's eerie graves. Wed 17 Kochi, Japan

Thu 18 Cruising the Kanmon Straits

About 6,000 years ago, the island of Honshu was divided in two by a crustal change and the straits and Kyushu Island were born. WHAT TO DO IN TOKYO

YOUR TWO NIGHT LUXURY HOTEL STAY

Sensoji Temple in Asakusa Tokyo, Japan

Japan's sprawling capital, Tokyo, is a destination always on the move. If you are not dazzled by the neon lights of modern shopping centres, then you will find solace and peace in a number of gardens, including Shinjuku Gyoen, where cherry blossom can be seen in spring and Ueno Koen, where museums, a zoo, a Toshogu Shrine and the Shinobazu Pond are just some of the park's attractions. Rich in history, Tokyo is a modern city built on old patterns and ancient Japan is still apparent in the local handicrafts, lantern-lit yakitori (grilled chicken) stands and historic temples.

Tokyo skyline

Even though it is among the largest cities in the world, Tokyo is still able to maintain efficiency and charm and a short distance outside the city is a whole different world. In the small towns and villages, you'll get a glimpse into Japan's rich culture, unspoiled nature, authentic living and friendly locals. Offering you the best of both worlds, Tokyo is an awe-inspiring destination to visit.

16 NIGHTS DEPARTING 18TH & 29TH AUGUST 2019

- Day 1 Fly from London to Copenhagen, Denmark[‡]. Upon arrival, walk to the airport hotel[‡] for your overnight stay
- Day 2 Copenhagen, Denmark – Kangerlussuaq, Greenland
Take a short walk to the airport for your flight to Kangerlussuaq, Greenland. Upon arrival, transfer to the port and embark MS Fram for your 12 night expedition voyage
- Day 3 Sisimiut, Greenland
En route to Sisimiut, make sure you're out on deck to scout for whales. The waters close to the settlement are frequented by several species, such as humpback and fin whales. Harbour porpoise and minke whales can be encountered along the west coast of Greenland. If you're lucky, you may also see large numbers of seals, the most common being the harp seal. Ashore, visit the small museum, hike in the hills and shop for local handicrafts. Just across Disko Bay is Disko Island and settlement Qeqertarsuaq
- Day 4 Ilulissat, Greenland
The name Ilulissat literally means 'icebergs' and the reason for this becomes clear on approach to the town. The glacier at the head of the icefjord is the most productive in the northern hemisphere, calving icebergs on a massive scale. These icebergs then make their way down the 20km fjord before entering Disko Bay
- Day 5 - Crossing the Davis Strait
- Day 6 This strait was named for the English explorer John Davis, who led three expeditions in the area between 1585 and 1587
- Day 7 Pond Inlet, Baffin Island, Canada
The picturesque hamlet of Pond Inlet, also called 'Mittimatalik' in Inuktitut, is a traditional Inuit community, surrounded by mountain ranges, with several dozen glaciers, scenic fjords and inlets. This is where the search for high Arctic wildlife, such as polar bears, can begin. Pond Inlet is also a great place to see large pods of narwhal, signalling the start of your Arctic safari. Ashore, the cultural performance by the local community will be a highlight. In the evening, you will cruise the spectacular Arctic landscape of Eclipse Sound
- Day 8 Lancaster Sound and Devon Island, Canada
Here you may see several seal species such as walrus, and whale species such as beluga or even narwhal. Polar bears are frequently seen in the area and the tundra around the shore supports small populations of Arctic hare and musk ox

- Day 9 Beechey Island and Radstock Bay, Canada
- Day 10 Fort Ross, Canada
Cruising the Bellot Strait
- Day 11 Cruising Conningham Bay
Today, tender boats will be launched to explore the bay where wildlife sightings may include belugas and polar bears
- Day 12 Cruising James Ross Strait
The strait runs between King William Island and the Boothia Peninsula and, based on conditions at hand, you will enjoy landings for hikes or small boat cruising
- Day 13 Gjøa Haven, Canada
Gjøa Haven is a popular destination for fans of Arctic history. The name honours the Norwegian explorer Roald Amundsen, who, with his men, spent two years at Gjøa Haven collecting scientific data, hunting caribou and exploring the surrounding area. When Amundsen arrived, there was no European settlement here, but he was in contact with the local Inuit and learned a lot from them about survival and travel in polar regions
- Day 14 Cambridge Bay, Victoria Island – Edmonton, Canada
The community of Cambridge Bay is located on the southeast coast of Victoria Island. In Inuinnaqtun, it is called 'lqaluktuuttiaq', meaning a 'good fishing place.' It is rich in archaeological history and blessed with abundant fish, seals, geese, musk ox and caribou. Disembark your ship and transfer to the airport for an internal flight to Edmonton, Canada. Upon arrival, transfer to the Westin Edmonton Hotel[‡] for your two night stay
- Day 15 Edmonton, Canada
Explore Edmonton at your leisure. Edmonton is the capital city of the province of Alberta and located on the North Saskatchewan River. Stroll through Fort Edmonton Park, Canada's largest living history museum, discover the West Edmonton Mall, the largest mall in North America and enjoy the longest stretch of urban parkland in North America, the Edmonton's river valley
- Day 16 Edmonton, Canada
Transfer to the airport for your overnight flight to London[‡]
- Day 17 Arrive in London

Itinerary is based on 18th August 2019 departure and itinerary operates in reverse on the other departure date
 Explorer cruises have a wide range of landing options. Every voyage is unique, therefore the above mentioned route is indicative only

*Expedition activities are optional and pre-bookable excursions are at a supplement and must be booked at least 28 days prior to departure. Discover the Ilulissat Icefjord, a UNESCO World Heritage Site

Explore Gjøa Haven, where the Amundsen expedition spent two years and several members of the Franklin expedition team are buried

THE TRUE NORTH

Make your way through the icy waters of Arctic Canada, or Nunavut as it is known in Inuit. You will be amazed by the vast expanses of pristine wilderness seen from the deck. TOP OF THE WORLD

Being at the top of the world means sailing in the midst of ice. On this voyage, like the voyages of the explorers before us, MS Fram will go where the ice allows. 12 NIGHTS DEPARTING 22ND JULY, 2ND, 15TH & 26TH AUGUST,
8TH & 19TH SEPTEMBER 2019

Day 1 Fly from London to Amsterdam, Netherlands*. Upon arrival, transfer to the port and embark MS Fridtjof Nansen for your 11 night voyage to Spitsbergen during her maiden season

Day 2 Cruising the North Sea

Today, the expedition team will begin the lecture programme covering history and the great explorers, marine biology, wildlife, oceanography and climate change as you sail the North Sea, a vital waterway that was the cradle of the Viking's rise, and later the Hanseatic League. Breathe in the fresh salt air, look for birds, mammals, ships and oil rigs – all part of the lively North Sea

Day 3 Rosendal, Norway

Rosendal is a small town on the shore of Hardangerfjord, Norway's second-largest fjord. It is known for the Barony Rosendal, an historic estate and manor house completed in 1665. Around 200 years later in 1850, an extensive, and very romantic garden was laid out around the main house. This garden is often referred to as the most magnificent Victorian garden in Norway. Alternatively, if you are feeling energetic, why not take a hike 890 metres up to Malmangernuten? Your reward will be a beautiful view over Rosendal and the Hardangerfjord

Day 4 Cruising Geirangerfjord

Often referred to as the "jewel in the crown" of the Norwegian fjords, UNESCO World Heritage Site Geirangerfjord is surrounded by a fairy tale landscape of majestic, snow-covered mountaintops, wild and beautiful waterfalls, lush green vegetation and the deep, blue fjord itself – it is about 300 metres deep, almost as deep as the surrounding landscape is high. Look out for the powerful waterfalls as they tumble from mountain to sea. The Seven Sisters consists of seven waterfalls that thunder down the mountainside next to the abandoned farm of Knivsflå

Day 5 Crossing the Arctic Circle

You will be welcomed to the Arctic with a special Arctic Circle crossing ceremony on deck: come and be baptised into the family of polar explorers! MS Fridtjof Nansen weaves her way among the islands and green coast of Norway and, as you sail further north and the air cools, you may be joined by an escort of fulmars flying along at port-hole level. Days at sea are an opportunity to wind down and watch the waves, or enjoy a lecture or two from the expedition team

Day 6 Reine, Norway – Cruising Trollfjord

Red and white traditional fisherman's cottages – known as rorbuer – sit perched on stilts over the water's edge, with a background of granite spires jutting skywards in scenic Reine. Later you will sail through the Raftsundet Strait and as you proceed north, keep a sharp eye open for white-tailed sea eagles often found in the area. Then you will enter the magnificent Trollfjord. Surrounded by mountains that stretch up to 1,200 metres above sea level, this narrow fjord slices deeply and dramatically into the heart of the island

Day 7 Sommarøy, Norway

Sommarøy is an archipelago of small islands with white, sandy beaches and a lively fishing community. The settlement also has a couple of small shops where you can buy handicrafts and groceries. Here, you might also enjoy an optional excursion including hiking, kayaking or a tour to visit Tromsø, the 'Gateway to the Arctic'

Day 8 Skarsvåg, Norway

Before arriving in Skarsvåg, you will sail past the spectacular North Cape cliff, offering you a stunning view of this famous landmark. Skarsvåg is a small village that lies along the northern coast of the island of Magerøya. Join an optional excursion* to the North Cape and get a feeling what it's like to stand at the end of the Earth. There is a combined museum and restaurant at the plateau, where you can learn more about the early expeditions to North Cape and watch a panoramic film that takes you through four seasons in a landscape full of contrasts, light and breathtaking scenery. North Cape is a spectacular place to experience the Midnight Sun

Day 9 Bjørnøya, Svalbard

*Expedition activities are optional and pre-bookable excursions are at a supplement and must be booked at least 28 days prior to departure. A mandatory medical questionnaire is required to be completed by all travellers and signed the voyage therefore itinerary is subject to change. Baggage restrictions will apply. Please ask for more details. Please note this voyage may not be suitable for guests with mobility restrictions. ~Midnight Sun lasts until 22nd August. Bjørnøya, with a population of just nine people, is the southernmost island of the Svalbard Archipelago. It is an isolated spot in the middle of the Arctic Ocean, known for hosting "the largest concentration of sea birds on the Northern Hemisphere"

Day 10 - Spitsbergen, Svalbard

Day 11 Within the Svalbard Archipelago there are about 3,000 polar bears, which depend on the ice to hunt for seals. Polar bears are solitary animals with no set colony or living area. You are most likely to observe this marine mammal on the drift ice, close to the ocean or even in the water. You may cruise into Hornsund and explore the ice-filled fjord by small boats, or land to hike to a viewpoint overlooking the glacier. The expedition team will tell stories of the history of the area, including that of Wanny Woldstad, the first female trapper-hunter who lived here in the 1930s. You will continue to the north-west corner of Spitsbergen and may head into Magdalenefjorden, where graves, blubber ovens and other cultural treasures from when men first started to inhabit Svalbard can be found. You may also see the enormous Monaco Glacier in Liefdefjord, before making a landing nearby at the old trapper hut at Texas Bar. Later, if conditions permit, cross the 80th parallel close to Møffen Island, where sometimes walrus are seen

THE HISTORIC SPORTSMAN'S ROUTE

In 1896, Hurtigruten's founder Captain Richard With opened a hotel on Svalbard and established the Sportsman's Route to bring visitors to the high north. His ship, DS Lofoten, sailed the Barents Sea between Hammerfest and Svalbard, captained by veteran polar explorer Otto Sverdrup. The 1896 Sportsman's route marked the start of Hurtigruten's Explorer voyages. CUSCO & MACHU PICCHU

Delve into the sacred and mysterious landmarks of the Inca Empire, including famed Machu Picchu, the Lost City of the Incas, and other ancient temples, all precisely constructed without mortar.

In Cusco, embark on a city tour which includes highlights such as the Sacsayhuaman fortress, the splendid Baroque-style Cusco Cathedral and the sacred site of Koricanha, where you can admire the lovely Dominican Convent of Santo Domingo that was built on the foundations of the Temple of the Sun, the most sumptuous temple in the Inca Empire.

This land tour will also take you to the ruins of Machu Picchu to explore this famous "Lost City of the Incas." Constructed as a royal retreat for the Inca emperor Pachacuti in the 1400s, Machu Picchu was abandoned less than 100 years later, its population probably devastated by smallpox.

INGREDIENTS

FOR THE BASE

- 250ml whole milk
- 50g caster sugar
- 10g cornflour
- 12g plain flour
- 40g egg yolk (approx. 2 eggs)
- 50g pistachios (finely chopped)

FOR THE SOUFFLÉ

- 100g base
- 100g room temperature egg whites
(works best with week old eggs)
- 20g caster sugar

METHOD

FOR THE BASE

1. Boil the milk. Mix together the egg yolks, caster sugar, cornflour and plain flour and then pour the mixture over the hot milk, whisking all the time.
2. Return to a clean pan and bring back to the boil, whisking all the time to stop it burning on the bottom of the pan.

3. Cook on a moderate heat, still mixing until very thick. Pour through a fine sieve and spread over a tray. Cover with cling film and leave to cool.
4. Once cool, add the chopped pistachios and mix well.
5. Brush the inside of a ramekin with a thick layer of soft butter. Make sure to brush in a vertical 'upwards' motion. Cover the buttered ramekin with sugar and pour off any excess. Place in the fridge in a covered container until needed.

FOR THE SOUFFLÉ

1. Whisk the egg whites slowly until soft peak. Add the caster sugar and continue to whisk until firm.
When ready, you will be able to turn the bowl upside down and keep all the meringue inside.
2. Beat the base in a separate bowl until loose.
Add the meringue and fold together.
3. Pour into the prepared moulds (to the top) and tap the ramekin on the table to pop all the big bubbles inside.
4. Place on a heavy baking tray in the centre of a pre-heated oven (185°C). Bake for approx. 10 minutes until it starts to colour on the top.
5. Remove from the oven gently and serve immediately. If cooked perfectly the centre will be soft/slightly runny but hot.
6. Serve with vanilla ice cream, fresh raspberries and chopped pistachios.
