HURTIGRUTEN
Turn the Tide on Plastic

In a world first, Hurtigruten have announced their intention to become a plastic-free cruise line! As of July this year, they will take their first step and ban single-use plastics on all of their 14 ships. With experts predicting by 2050 there'll be more plastic than fish in the oceans, Hurtigruten's announcement will help protect the fragile environments they sail to, including the Norwegian Fjords, Arctic and Antarctic oceans.

Turn to page 32 to read more about Hurtigruten's ground-breaking plastic ban!

P&O CRUISES Announce Name of Newest Ship

After a highly anticipated wait and Facebook competition, which saw over 30,000 public entries, a panel of experts have selected a name for P&O Cruises' newest ship from the long list of entries, and the winner is Iona! – inspired by the Hebridean island of the same name.

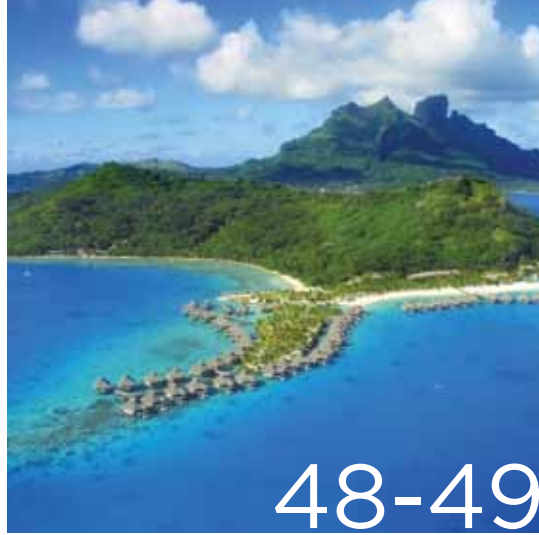

They have also marked the first construction milestone for Iona, which launches in 2020, with a steel cutting ceremony in Papenburg. Once complete, she will be Britain's biggest cruise ship!

Why not join an existing member of the P&O Cruises' fleet and enjoy an incredible choice of benefits. Turn to pages 20-23 to find out more.

Hello and welcome to the July edition of Blue Horizons.

What a fantastic, and record-breaking, year it has been for the ROL Cruise brand. We have recently won two awards for 2018 with Azamara Club Cruises®, have qualified as finalists in three categories at the Agent Achievement Awards 2018 and have been announced as one of the UK and Ireland's Top Cruise Agencies.

In light of our continued success, I would like to extend a heart-felt thank you to all of the avid readers of Blue Horizons, to those of you who continue to book with us and to our valued cruise line partners. Without you, the continued prosperity of ROL Cruise would not be possible.

Which is why I am delighted to announce some exciting changes within the ROL Cruise internal structure. We have created brand new Managing Director positions within our management team to further accelerate growth. I, myself, will be adopting a more strategic role as Chairman with Sarah Wikevand, who has 13 years of experience working with ROL Cruise, being promoted to Managing Director (MD), where she will drive cruise sales growth and cruise partnerships still further. There are also an additional two internal facing MD positions created, which Ellie Fielder and Rosie Weir will fill.

We have ambitious plans and the creation of these new appointments will give us the necessary enhanced infrastructure and focus to accelerate continued growth.

As ever you, our customers, are at the heart of the ROL Cruise ethos. Our energy and drive as a business is focused on bringing you the best cruise offers, the most intriguing destinations and for you to truly 'Experience the Difference' with everything that we do – and within this edition of Blue Horizons, you will find just that.

Here's to another successful year, Happy Cruising!

Jeremy Dickinson
Chairman,

LUXURY HOTEL
STAY IN TOKYO

YOUR EXCLUSIVE VOYAGE

Beginning with a two night luxury hotel‡ stay in Tokyo, you will embark on an extraordinary journey through Japan, whilst also featuring an incredible call to South Korea.

Japan is truly a land of contrasts. Their culture has been cultivated for millennia and they still adhere to the values that have been in place for centuries, yet this somehow blends perfectly with the modern metropolis of neon lights and skyscrapers. Whilst in Tokyo, you'll find the contrasts are typified here – the bright lights and electronic excitement of Shibuya and Akihabara are balanced with the quiet reverence of the gardens and shrines of Chiyoda.

Not only will you get to experience this glorious blend of old and new, you will also get to visit Japan during springtime, where you will be able to luxuriate in the renowned beauty of the cherry blossom. In Japan, this is known as 'Sakura' and is said to symbolise the transition of human life.

An overnight stay in Kobe, Japan, will allow you to fully immerse yourself in the quintessential culture that is to be found there. Here, make sure to sample the local speciality – teppanyaki-grilled kobe beef. Later, you will visit the city of Kagoshima, which is often compared to its Italian sister city, Naples, due to a similarly mild climate, streets lined with palm trees, and Sakurajima, Kagoshima's version of Vesuvius. Busan is South Korea's second largest city and is home to one of Korea's great temples, the Beomeosa Temple and the popular Yonggungsa Temple. It is also known for its beaches, hot springs and nature reserves.

THE THINGS YOU CAN DO ON A

Cruise Ship

The engine is revving, the light turns green and I am off, hurtling out of the pits and onto the race track followed by a clutch of wannabee race champs. I'm leading at the first bend, overtaken at the second and only just make it around the third because now, instead of thinking of the task in hand, my mind has wandered to all the strange things I have done on cruise ships over the years.

There have been plenty but this, racing a go-kart on Norwegian Cruise Line's new ship Norwegian Bliss, has to take poll position. Given she is cruising from Seattle to Alaska this summer and next (you'll find her itineraries on the ROL Cruise website), I guess you could say it is just another wild experience to notch up on a cruise to America's 49th state.

Jane
ARCHER

Jane Archer is one of the UK's leading cruise journalists and the Daily Telegraph Travel's cruise expert. She has been sharing her experiences with Blue Horizons' readers for ten years.

Here are some other bizarre and unique things that you can do on a cruise ship:

Learning to dance:

I know, I know. This doesn't really fall into the strange category for most people, but when you have two left feet and a poor grasp of left and right, believe me it is a very odd thing to try to do. I had a go at the Cha-Cha and Waltz, and knew things were not going well when my partner, one of the professional dancers on Cunard's Queen Elizabeth, suggested I either talk or count but don't try to do both. He was being kind really. What he should have said is, 'Have you ever thought of taking up go-karting'.

If dancing rather than go-karting to America's 49th state appeals, you'll find details of Queen Elizabeth's maiden season in Alaska in this issue of Blue Horizons.

Learning to cook:

I would never have dreamed, all those years ago when I started writing about cruising, that I would not only have cookery lessons on a ship (and I mean actually rolling up your sleeves and getting your hands dirty) but be taught by a celebrity chef.

But there I was, in the Cookery Club on P&O Cruises' Britannia, discovering why my pastry is never very good (hint: instead of adding flour, use cling film to stop it sticking when you roll it) and learning the expert way to slice onions from cake supremo Eric Lanlard. He was charming, patient and funny, and the result of my labours was pretty good, even if I say so myself.

Having dinner on a real grass lawn:

This is another of those who'd-have-thought-it moments – I loved it so much I've done it twice. The grass lawn is of course on Celebrity Cruises' Solstice-class ships; the dinner was in the Lawn Club Grill, a venue that debuted on Celebrity Silhouette when it launched in 2011.

I ate there on a cruise with my daughter soon after she launched and we had the most amazing evening. Picture the scene: a warm summer's evening, a calm Mediterranean Sea and sizzling steaks on the grill. Yum!

And now Silhouette has come to the UK, replacing Eclipse as Celebrity's 'British' ship. I was lucky enough to go on board her first ex-

UK sailing – a two night jaunt to Le Havre – so naturally I had to make a return visit to the Lawn Club Grill.

Sadly the weather was not on my side (luckily they have blankets!) but the food and service were just as great. If you're going on board, do not miss out.

Climbing the mast of a clipper ship:

Some ships have go-karts, cookery clubs and grass lawns. Star Clippers' sailing ships have masts so what else can you do but climb them! Just strap on the harness and off you go, they said. It sounded simple but it is a long way up – about 40 feet to the crow's nest, and you're climbing a rope ladder remember – and more than a little scary if you're not good with heights, but the view once you get there is spectacular.

And it is certainly different – as indeed are four new cruises to Borneo that Star Clippers are offering in 2019 on the eponymous Star Clipper. Think rainforests, orang-utans, caves and kayaking. You'll find more about the itineraries on pages 36-37 in this month's Blue Horizons.

Making wine:

Not as in picking and crushing grapes, you understand (but maybe that is an idea for a cruise line!), but blending different grape varieties to create my perfect wine.

I confess it's not something I'd ever hankered after doing but there I was in Blend, a venue on Holland America Line's Koningsdam (it will also be on Nieuw Statendam when that launches later this year), tasting wine with one hand and making notes on which ones might mix well with the other.

It is all good fun but you do tend to imbibe rather a lot before even deciding which ones to blend, which colours your judgment rather. Put it another way, I thought for sure I had created the perfect wine until I tasted it the next day!

And still cruise lines the weird and wonderful keep coming. I've got my eye on a seven-man submarine on Scenic Eclipse, the discovery yacht that Scenic is launching this autumn (which incidentally looks just spectacular). Imagine that David Attenborough moment as you dive down into the frozen waters of the Arctic or Antarctica. Awesome!

HURTIGRUTEN AND THE GREAT PLASTIC BAN

Hurtigruten plan to make history by becoming the world's first cruise line to remove all single use plastics from their ships! In the hope that other cruise lines follow suit, Hurtigruten, who sail to some of the world's most remote, pristine and delicate environments, have made their announcement at a time when concern for rising plastic in the oceans is at an all time high. To ensure they are operating with the smallest footprint possible, Hurtigruten will forego plastic straws, coffee lids and plastic bags on all of their 14 ships from this July, even single-use butter packaging!

“ It is possible to act now, and the oceans cannot wait. ”

“There is a lot of talk about the impact plastic has on our oceans,” said Hurtigruten CEO Daniel Skjeldam.
“But it's time to take action.”

And it doesn't stop there, they intend to extend the ban to incorporate their hotels and other land-based operators. They've also announced that nine of their ships will be retro-fitted to use liquified natural gas and battery propulsion, further limiting their impact on the environment.

“Operating in pristine areas as we do, comes with a responsibility,” added Daniel.

Hurtigruten have focused on the problem of plastic pollution for many years, organising annual beach clean-ups involving their 2,500 employees as well as some of their 400,000 guests!

A GREAT CHANCE TO SEE POLAR BEARS

EXPEDITION HIGHLIGHTS

This expedition is one of a kind, with a multitude of landing sites and exciting experiences in the Arctic. Hurtigruten aim to sail above 80°N and to take you to the ice edge of the Arctic Ocean. This adventure will include several excursions* including hiking, kayaking and other activities on land and on the water. There's also a good chance that you'll see a polar bear – after all, there are more polar bears than there are humans on Svalbard!

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE ARCTIC

Starting in Longyearbyen, you'll circumnavigate Svalbard's largest island of Spitsbergen, at one point sailing closer than 600 nautical miles from the Geographical North Pole. Explore the great national parks and some of the most spectacular highlights of the Arctic. Thanks to the Gulf Stream, the Svalbard archipelago boasts a surprisingly mild climate in summer, despite being this far north. Among a large variety of plants and wildlife are seals, thousands of seabirds, the Arctic fox, reindeer and the top predator: the polar bear.

DEEP FJORDS, MIGHTY GLACIERS AND PURE WILDERNESS

In the summer, beautiful colours and contrasts provide the frames for dramatic glaciers, majestic mountain formations, deep fjords, buzzing bird cliffs and endless Arctic tundra with its diverse flora and fauna. The Midnight Sun makes it possible to fill your days and nights with exciting experiences amidst this timeless wilderness.

YOUR 10 NIGHT ARCTIC CIRCUMNAVIGATION DEPARTS 3RD, 11TH & 19TH JUNE 2019

- Day 1 Fly from London to Oslo, Norway (regional and premium class flights may be available on request*). This evening, take an onward flight to Longyearbyen, Svalbard
- Day 2 Longyearbyen, Svalbard, Norway
Upon arrival in the early hours, transfer to a hotel† for your stay. Join an exciting excursion* to explore this unique town. Longyearbyen is often called an antidote to modern-day life and serves as a prime destination for adventure travellers. Enjoy the cosy atmosphere of this colourful frontier outpost before transferring to the port later this afternoon and embarking MS Fram for your eight night Grand Circumnavigation of Svalbard
- Day 3 - Day 5 North West Spitsbergen National Park
This nature reserve is scattered with islands, fjords and beaches. The ocean here can be full of drifting ice, especially in the early season and the frozen landscape changes constantly. You might visit Kongsfjorden, considered one of the most beautiful fjord areas in Spitsbergen, with mighty glaciers calving icebergs into the sea, framed by stunning mountain formations. In the Magdalenafjorden and Gravneset areas, you may have the chance to swim and earn a rare Arctic swimming certificate. There will also be exciting hiking and scenic kayaking opportunities, featuring the nearby Gully Glacier. You may also get to see the enormous Monaco Glacier in Liefdefjord, and enjoy a chance to cruise in small boats
- Day 6 - Day 8 Eastern Svalbard Nature Reserves & South Spitsbergen National Park
Eastern Svalbard boasts the highest population of polar bears on the archipelago. If conditions allow, you will sail to Isflakbukta on Phippsøya, part of Sjuøyane (Seven Islands), which are located at the far north of the Svalbard archipelago. Thousands upon thousands of seabirds mate here, while walrus dive for clams in the bays. You will also aim to cruise in Sorgfjorden, which borders the North East Spitsbergen Nature Reserve, and was the site of a famous 17th century battle between whalers. If the weather is favourable, join a hike in beautiful Eolsneset or enjoy tender boat cruising in the Hinlopen Strait area. Another part of your journey may be a visit to Torellneset, which is an excellent place to spot walrus sunning themselves on the flat beach. You will continue on to Edgeøya, the third-largest island in the Svalbard archipelago. On its western shores, the landscape is largely un-glaciated, unlike most other places on the east side of Spitsbergen. Kapp Lee is a wonderful site where you will find cultural heritage from all eras of human exploration of Svalbard. You will make your way to the southern cape and the southernmost tip of Spitsbergen, where Hornsund hosts a wonderfully varied landscape and geology. Polar bears hunt on the ice floes and with some luck you may spot these magnificent predators

- Day 9 The Isfjord
Spend today exploring the Isfjord, the most prominent fjord system on Svalbard. The immense U-shaped valleys, carved out of the mountains by the giant glaciers that covered the area some ten thousand years ago, are home to large populations of the endemic Svalbard Reindeer
- Day 10 Longyearbyen – Oslo, Norway
Disembark and transfer to the airport for your flight back to Oslo. Upon arrival in Oslo, walk to an airport hotel† for your overnight stay
- Day 11 Oslo, Norway
Take a short walk from the hotel to the airport for your flight to London (regional and premium class flights may be available on request*)

Explorer cruises have a wide range of landing options. Every voyage is unique, therefore the above mentioned route is indicative only

Escape the cold winter weather on an incredible voyage to the Caribbean on board Braemar and prepare for the busy festive period with some well-earned rest and relaxation in the sunshine. Before taking in a string of stunning Caribbean islands you'll visit two very different, yet equally rewarding Portuguese destinations. Firstly, Lisbon, where historic structures and monuments such as the Belém Tower and Jeronimos Monastery are found within the pretty streets. Then on the floral island of Madeira, sweet-scented gardens and the leafy levada trails are yours to explore while enjoying the beautifully benign climate. This is sure to whet your appetite for the sun-kissed beauty awaiting you in the Caribbean. A glide across the Atlantic follows, allowing plenty of time to relax and enjoy the facilities on board your ship before arriving in St. John's, Antigua. Here you can take your pick of over 365 beautiful beaches, visit the historic English Harbour and Nelson's Dockyard, and marvel at the views on offer from the Shirley Heights lookout. Whatever you choose to do, your stop at St. John's is sure to be the perfect start to your Caribbean adventure.

French ONION SOUP

Created by Oceania Cruises® Jacques Pépin himself, this stunning recipe harks back to the French comfort food style of his childhood. A gorgeous French onion soup, capped with melted Gruyère cheese with most recipes, both red and white wines. Oceania Cruises® proudly hold the title of 'The Finest Cuisine at Sea™' and you can recreate this exceptional dish in your very own kitchen and embark on a culinary journey to be proud of.

INGREDIENTS

- 7 cups beef stock
- 3 tbsps unsalted butter
- 3 lbs cups thinly sliced onion
- 3 thyme sprigs
- 2 marjoram sprigs
- 12 to 16 slices baguette, each 1/4 inch thick
- Extra virgin olive oil
- 1/3 cup dry white wine such as Chardonnay
- 1/3 cup dry red wine such as Merlot
- 3 tbsps brandy
- 3 1/2 cups chicken stock
- Kosher salt and freshly ground black pepper
- About 2 cups shredded Gruyère or Emmentaler cheese

METHOD

1. Pour the beef stock into a large saucepan and bring to a gentle boil over medium-high heat. Adjust the heat as needed to maintain a gentle boil and cook until the stock is reduced to 3 1/2 cups.
2. In a stockpot, melt the butter over a medium heat. Add the onion and garlic and cook, stirring often, until the onion is translucent and a light golden brown. Reduce the heat to medium-low and cook until the onion is a rich brown, lowering the heat as necessary to prevent scorching, this should take about 45 minutes to 1 hour.

3. Meanwhile, place the thyme and marjoram sprigs on a small piece of cheesecloth and tie into a sachet. Preheat the oven to 350°F/180°C.
4. Select four flameproof individual serving bowls. Using the bowls to judge how many slices you will need, lay enough baguette slices to cover the openings of all 4 bowls on a sheet pan. Lightly brush the baguette slices on both sides with olive oil. Place in the oven and heat, turning once, until dry, about 5 minutes on each side. Do not allow the bread to colour. Set aside.
5. Add the white wine, red wine, and brandy to the browned onion, bring to a simmer over medium-high heat, and simmer, stirring occasionally, until the alcohol evaporates and the onion is glazed, about 5 minutes. Add the sachet, the reduced beef stock, and the chicken stock and bring to a simmer. Keep at a low simmer, uncovered, for 1 hour. Season to taste with salt and pepper.
6. Preheat the grill. Place the serving bowls on a small sheet pan. Ladle the soup into the bowls. Top with bread slices, and then top the bread slices with enough cheese to cover the bread completely and extend to the rims of the bowls, about 1/2 cup for each bowl. Place under the grill until the cheese is bubbling and toasted.
