EMBARK ON AN Incredible Journey WITH ROL CRUISE

There is nothing quite like travelling solo. A solo cruise is an ideal getaway for solo adventurers, offering a safe and secure environment in which to visit new destinations, experience different cultures and make lifelong friends. Your travel arrangements are handled by the experts here at ROL Cruise, so once on board, relax knowing you are in a safe environment, and secure in the knowledge that the attentive crew will be around to look after your every wish. Travelling solo has become a much desired holiday experience, with the number of solo traveller bookings increasing year on year.

WHY CHOOSE TO CRUISE SOLO?

Cruising is a perfect way to explore the world – you will only need to unpack once as you discover an array of incredible destinations. Cruising takes this stress away completely, once you're on the ship you can unpack in your room and know that all of your transport is taken care of for the rest of the trip.

Also, thanks to the nature of cruising, you are guaranteed to meet individuals who share a passion for travel. By taking part in on board activities, you'll be able to mingle in no time and make some great travelling companions. If you'd rather stay independent, it's easy to do that too. And with so much to do, every hour of your day will be filled with excitement.

If you're worried about exploring a new city by yourself, you don't need to be. The cruise line's great range of shore excursions mean at every port you'll be able to follow a qualified and knowledgeable guide and explore with a group.

As with every holiday, there is so much to see and do and that certainly doesn't change on a cruise. Being independent means you are able to do whatever you like for every second of your holiday. Want to lie in and enjoy the view from your bed? Go ahead! Want to get up early and take a dip in the pool? Do it! Want to spend your day on the ship instead of exploring the port? Then the choice is yours. With no one to dictate your holiday, you can spend it exactly how you want...

SOLO TRAVEL

Within this Solo Traveller Special, you will discover exclusive value, much of which is only available when booking with ROL Cruise, unforgettable destinations and of course, exceptional deals.

So, why should you book your solo traveller cruise with ROL Cruise? Here's what our customers say...

“

“ROL Cruise offers solo travellers an excellent opportunity to holiday at a reasonable and affordable price with no single supplement. Thank you!”

“As a single traveller I have found ROL Cruise excellent both in value and service.”

“As a single traveller I would highly recommend ROL. Always reliable, always safe and reasonably priced”

SOLO So Good...

Jane Archer is one of the UK's leading cruise journalists and cruise expert for the Daily Telegraph. She has been sharing her experiences with Blue Horizons' readers for the past 14 years.

I've finally given in to all the hype and started watching the TV police drama Line of Duty. Any of you familiar with it will not be surprised when I say the first episode went straight over my head. Was the CHIS anything to do with MIT or TFC? And as for the IRV? OMG! By the end of an hour my brain was spinning.

But the shorthand speak got me thinking that cruises should have their own set of acronyms. And as this month's column is all about the joys of cruising solo, I've come up with two – PY and FFL – that sum up what makes a cruise so PFSC (in case you can't guess, that's Please Yourself, Friends For Life and Perfect For Solo Cruisers).

Think about it. You become part of a ready-made 'family' of crew and cruisers, you are in a safe environment, there's no end of entertainment, be that lavish shows, interesting lectures or fun quizzes, and if you're nervous about going ashore alone, you can join fellow passengers on an excursion. Leisurely sightseeing, cooking classes, wine-tasting, cycling trips. All the cruise lines offer something for everyone.

I am lucky enough to cruise several times a year for work and most of the time I go alone. Know what? I love it. My husband and I have a great time cruising together but it's so liberating when he's not there as I only have to think about myself. I can get up when I like, have lunch when I'm peckish, pick the excursions I fancy, sit where I want at the show (and shh, don't tell him, sometimes even skip the show altogether!).

It's much easier to make friends, invariably with people who are also cruising alone, because we are all more gregarious when we are on our own and not focusing attention on companions. I know that moment of walking into a restaurant alone, especially on day one of a cruise, is daunting, particularly if it's open seating, but the maitre d' can help break the ice by introducing you to other diners.

On both ocean and river cruises, I've found myself on a 'singles' table for dinner and noticed we are always the last to leave the restaurant. You get to a point where you run out of things to talk about to a spouse or friend you've been with all day. With a table of strangers from different parts of the UK or other countries, there's much more to natter about – where they come from, their work, other cruises they've done, their favourite on board restaurants. The conversation just flows.

After all these months in lockdown, starved of friends and family, those long dinner conversations will go on even longer. I certainly can't wait to get back on a cruise, meeting real people instead of staring at a frozen Zoom screen and, great cook that he is, eating something that my husband hasn't cooked (in my defence, he says the same thing!).

Saga and Fred. Olsen Cruise Lines have always been a top choice for solo travellers, providing lots of single accommodation (Saga's new ships have 109 single cabins each; Fred. Olsen's new Borealis and Bolette, the former Holland America duo Amsterdam and Rotterdam, have more than 100 between them) and ensuring that while folk might be travelling alone, they are never lonely. Fred. Olsen tell me that as Covid restrictions will be in place during their cruises around the UK this summer, solo travellers will be 'bubbled up' with others who are on their own (if they wish, of course) so they are not alone.

P&O Cruises and Cunard have ramped up their single cabin count recently, making them a good choice for folk cruising alone, and Hurtigruten's ships are great for lone travellers in search of adventure. For when we can finally fly to the States again, American Cruise Lines has single cabins on its new-look modern river boats sailing the Mississippi and Columbia and Snake Rivers in America's Northwest Pacific region.

The experts at ROL Cruise will have details of all these companies and of course can help you book. Just bear in mind there is huge demand for single cabins, hence my final acronym: GIQ. Get in quick!

YOUR GALÁPAGOS ISLANDS WILDLIFE WATCHLIST...

MARINE IGUANA

Found only in the Galápagos Islands, these iconic iguanas are distinguishable by the white “wigs” of salt expelled from glands near their noses. They look fierce, but are actually gentle herbivores, surviving exclusively on underwater algae and seaweed. Their short snouts and razor-sharp teeth help them scrape algae off rocks.

GALÁPAGOS SEA LION

The cute Galápagos Sea Lion is the most abundant marine mammal in the Archipelago and is often seen sleeping on the beaches or swimming close to shore. Their streamlined bodies make them very efficient swimmers and hunters, especially of sardines. If you're lucky, you may get the chance to witness young pups chasing each other along the sand.

BLUE-FOOTED BOOBY

Blue-footed boobies are thought to take their name from the Spanish word “bobo”, meaning “stupid”, the term suited these clumsy and ungraceful creatures. During mating rituals, male boobies show off their blue feet with a high-stepped strut to prospective females that they want to partner with. The bluer the feet, the more attractive the mate.
