STANDING OVATION FOR NEW GODMOTHER

Much-loved actress and singer Elaine Page will become Godmother to 6★ Seabourn's® newest ship, Seabourn Ovation in a glittering naming ceremony due to take place in the beautiful harbour of Valletta, Malta.

"I am so honoured to have been asked to be Godmother to Seabourn Ovation," Elaine says, "Seabourn's legendary service has the same DNA as a hit West End show: a dedicated cast of professionals who all come together to deliver a superb performance, whatever their role. I can't wait to board the beautiful Seabourn Ovation and send her off into the world!"

What with Elaine Page serving as Godmother and specially commissioned entertainment by none other than Sir Tim Rice, Seabourn Ovation is sure to please when she sets sail in May 2018.

Seabourn Ovation

Silver Spirit in dry dock

SILVER SPIRIT GOES UNDER THE KNIFE

In a great spectacle, Silver Spirit has been dramatically cut in two as part of a pre-planned lengthening project and long-awaited transformation. This complex operation has allowed a pre-built segment to be inserted mid-ship, adding an additional 49 feet in length and allowing for key enhancements on board. There'll be two new restaurants, the state-of-the-art Zagara Spa, increased pool deck space and in total 34 additional suites! Currently being re-connected, it won't be long until Silver Spirit is whole again.

In the meantime, turn to pages 30-31 to join one of Silversea's other luxurious vessels currently afloat.

Fri 10 Embark Queen Mary 2 and depart Southampton
Mon 13 Lisbon, Portugal
Thu 16 Capri/Naples, Italy
Fri 17 Transit the Messina Strait
Sun 19 - Mon 20 Galilee (from Haifa), Israel (overnight)
 Often likened to Naples or San Francisco, Haifa, draped across pine-scented hillsides around a sweeping bay, is the charming and largest city in Northern Israel. Despite superb beaches, museums and galleries, the undoubted star here is the Baha'i Shrine and Gardens. Statues of eagles and peacocks preside over manicured lawns that rise in attractive tiers, revealing views over its exquisite gold-domed shrine and far, far beyond

Wed 22 Transit the Suez Canal
 Take in the impressive sight of vast ships waiting to enter the Suez Canal at the southern entrance on the Red Sea

Thu 23 Petra (from Aqaba), Jordan

Thu 30 - Fri 31 Dubai, U.A.E. (overnight)

Sat 15 Ho Chin Minh City (from Phu My), Vietnam

Sun 16 Nha Trang, Vietnam

Tue 18 - Wed 19 Hong Kong, China (overnight)

Hong Kong is a paradigm of contradictions. On the one hand, the city vibrates with modern commerce, soaring skyscrapers and sophistication. But at the same time it is a land of ancient beliefs and intriguing local customs: small, gilded shrines glow with red lamps, joss sticks and fresh oranges; markets are heaped high with salted eggs, squid and every kind of medicinal root and herbal remedy imaginable and red-sailed junks and sampans ply the harbour

Sun 23 Bitung, Indonesia

Wed 26 Darwin, Australia

MARCH 2020

Sun 1 Airlie Beach (for the Great Barrier Reef), Australia

Tue 3 Brisbane, Australia
Thu 5 - Fri 6 Sydney, Australia (overnight)

Sun 8 Melbourne, Australia

Tue 10 Adelaide, Australia
 Connoisseurs of New World wines are in luck. Around a third of Australia's supply is produced an hour or less from church-sprinkled Adelaide. Perhaps its best known is the gorgeous Magill Estate, a wonderful spot for a first-class tasting in the rolling South Australian countryside

Fri 13 Margaret River (from Busselton), Australia

Sat 14 Perth (from Fremantle), Australia

Sun 22 Port Louis, Mauritius

Mon 23 Le Port, Réunion

Fri 27 Durban, South Africa

Sun 29 Port Elizabeth, South Africa

Tue 31 Cape Town, South Africa (two night stay)

Not only is Cape Town one of the most beautiful cities in the world, but it is also surrounded by magnificent beaches, rugged mountains and bucolic vineyards. On a fine day, savour an awe-inspiring cable car ride up Table Mountain. Perhaps make the poignant tour of Robben Island or take a cultural trip to Stellenbosch and its surrounding wine lands

It is the sort of place where anything seems to go – that is why Americans love to call it the “Big Easy”. Its melting pot of influences; African, French and Caribbean, give this city on the Mississippi River a unique vibrancy, not least after dark when the music clubs and bars strike up with authentic jazz and blues sounds. WELCOME TO THE GALÁPAGOS ISLANDS...

The remote location of the Galápagos Islands has allowed for a unique and diverse range of species, seen nowhere else in the world. This isolation has enabled many different and unusual species to flourish not only for this reason, but also because they have fewer natural predators. The phenomenon that are the Galápagos Islands is what inspired Charles Darwin's Theory of Evolution.

- The iconic Blue Footed Boobies nest on the volcanic coast of Bartolomé and travelling in October is a prime time to see them raising their young.
- Spend time with the iconic Giant Tortoise who on average spends 16 hours a day resting.

- The small Galápagos penguins are commonly found on Bartolomé and nest in the coastal lava. They are the only species of Penguin that are to be found north of the Equator.
- South Plaza is home to a colony of Land Iguanas that reside in the cactus forest. This is one of the only places to spot the Hybrid Iguana (a result of a land and marine iguana).
- Large colonies of sea lions bask in the sun on South Plaza but are widespread throughout the islands. The Galápagos Fur Seal – which is closely related – can be found on Bartolomé.

- The exotic looking Red Sally Lightfoot Crabs can be seen throughout the archipelago feeding on shore debris.
- North Seymour has a breeding colony of the impressive Frigate Birds which are known for inflating their red bill in order to attract a mate.
- Santa Fe is the only place to spot the magnificent and prehistoric-looking Santa Fe Iguana.

SILVER SPIRIT GETS BIGGER AND BETTER

In December 2009, I was lucky enough to be one of the first people to sail on Silversea's Silver Spirit. The ship was big news in more ways than one – not only was she Silversea's first new ship for eight years, but the cruise line's largest-ever vessel (although in Silversea terms that actually only means 540 passengers!) with room for additional places to eat, a larger spa and more spacious suites.

Little did I know that some eight years later I'd be in a shipyard in Palermo, Sicily, watching as Silver Spirit was cut in half and a new 49-foot section was inserted in the middle to make her a little bit bigger but a whole lot more luxurious; to 'amplify the experience', as Silversea calls it.

Specifically, the new section is adding another 34 suites (26 Verandas, six Silver suites and two Panorama suites), taking capacity to 608 passengers.

While it was not the first time I have seen a cruise ship cut in half, no-one else has managed it with quite such panache as Silversea. A room at the elegant Villa Igiea in Palermo (my balcony even had a view of the shipyard) and a card inviting me to 'witness the second significant parting in the history of the seas'.

"I will now pause while you work out which the first was!"

It goes without saying that lengthening a ship is an incredible feat of planning and engineering. First Silver Spirit had to be stripped of furniture, carpets, basically anything that could be moved (a lot was donated to local charities in Crete), because once the yard had finished stretching her, she was going to be totally refurbished in the image of Silver Muse, Silversea's new ship launched last year.

Before work could start, some 1,300 cables, air ducts and pipes – basically all the on board services that would be severed – had to be tagged so they could be matched to labels on the same services on the mid-section when that was finally in place. And then the cutting began.

On the afternoon of Silver Spirit's fourth day in drydock, I sipped on Prosecco, nibbled on canapés (I told you it was all done in Silversea style!) and watched as the final cut was made and the front of the ship inched slowly away from the back on skid pads and hydraulic jacks. Less than 24 hours later I was back at the yard to watch as the new mid-section was manoeuvred into place and the yard workers started the job of putting her back together.

Then the refurbishment began. It's a massive job – new décor and furnishings of course, the extra suites, a new Zagara Spa, an enlarged pool area and completely revamped dining, all to be completed by 1st May.

Two restaurants, Atlantide and Indochine, respectively a steakhouse and Asian eatery, replace the dining room. Both made their debut on Silver Muse, are complimentary and don't require reservations. The Stars Supper Club is to be reinvented as Silver Note, a venue that serves up light bites and live jazz, and they are adding a funky Arts Café and pizza restaurant called Spaccanapoli (both venues also replicate outlets on Muse).

The price tag for all this? A cool $70million, which seems a lot to add just 34 suites but it is considerably cheaper than building a new ship – although Silversea is doing that as well. Silver Moon, another Muse lookalike, launches in 2020 and I have been told the next ship after that is already in the pipeline. Exciting times indeed!

AROUND THE WORLD IN 140 DAYS

Two nights in Antarctica, two days in Sydney and a transit of the Suez Canal. What am I talking about? Silversea's just-launched 2020 World Cruise.

This is a real epic – 140 days sailing from Fort Lauderdale to Amsterdam on Silver Whisper and staying overnight in great cities including Rio de Janeiro, Buenos Aires, Singapore, Mumbai and Dublin.

Silver Whisper will also stay the night in Easter Island, sail through the South Pacific and spend a couple of days sailing through the Chilean Fjords. I cruised through them a few years back and they are really spectacular – think Norwegian fjords but even more scenic, with snowy peaks and creeping glaciers.

Hop on this cruise and you can judge whether I am right because the itinerary also visits Bergen and Flåm in Norway – Silversea says it is the first time a world cruise has visited both the Northern and Southern fjords.

It is apparently also the first world cruise to visit all seven continents. Number seven is, of course, Antarctica, which is even more scenic than the fjords with the added bonus of thousands of penguins, whales and giant icebergs. Some ships only do sightseeing cruises there, but Silver Whisper will be fitted with inflatable zodiacs so folks can go ashore and get up close to the penguins.

That's such a special experience, but why wait until 2020 when you could be sailing around India and the Arabian Sea with Silversea in the meantime? I see ROL Cruise has a brilliant 19 day holiday that pairs a voyage from Mumbai to Dubai on board Silver Shadow in April 2019 with hotel stays in Goa and Abu Dhabi. Check out this month's Blue Horizons for more details.

THE MYSTERY OF EASTER ISLAND

Welcome to the mysteries of Rapa Nui, the 'Navel of the World', more commonly known as Easter Island. Lying 2,294 miles (3,692km) west of the Chilean mainland, enigmatic Easter Island is the world's most remote inhabited island, famous for its strange monolithic statues.

Roughly half of these intriguing statues are scattered across the island's volcanic landscape. Exactly how these huge, eerie-looking stone figures were transported miles from the quarry remains a mystery.

This vast outdoor museum, home to some of archaeology's most valuable treasures, is part of Rapa Nui National Park, inscribed as a World Heritage Site by UNESCO in 1995.

GREEK Rack of Lamb

COOK TIME
1 hr 20 mins

Celebrity X Cruises®
SAIL BEYOND BORDERS

INGREDIENTS

- 1kg rack of lamb
- 25ml vegetable oil
- 25g Dijon mustard
- 400g breadcrumbs, (for the crumb mixture)
- 120g parmesan cheese, grated (for the crumb mixture)
- 3 tsp fresh thyme, chopped (for the crumb mixture)
- 3 tsp fresh rosemary, chopped (for the crumb mixture), plus 3 tsp for the jus and a sprig to garnish
- 2 tsp fresh parsley, chopped (for the crumb mixture), plus a sprig to garnish
- 5 cloves of garlic, (2 cloves for the crumb mixture and 3 cloves for the garlic mashed potatoes), plus 3 tsp for the jus
- 180g butter, (60g for the crumb mixture and 120g for the garlic mashed potatoes)
- 1kg red potatoes, (for the garlic mashed potatoes)
- 120ml extra thick double cream, (for the garlic mashed potatoes)
- 5 tbsp olive oil, (1 tbsp for the garlic mashed potatoes and 4 tsp for the jus)
- 1 tsp shallots, (for the jus)
- 500ml lamb stock, (for the jus)
- 300g baby carrots, peeled
- 200g broccoli florets
- 2 tsp unsalted butter, (for the glazed vegetables)
- 2 tsp granulated sugar, (for the glazed vegetables)

METHOD

1. Combine all crumb mixture ingredients in a bowl and mix well with the butter.
2. Season the lamb with salt and pepper and sear the lamb on all sides.
3. When cool, brush with Dijon mustard and cover with the crumb mixture. Place the mirepoix on a sheet pan and arrange the lamb on top. Roast in the oven at 375°F (190°C) until desired temperature.
4. To make the garlic mashed potatoes, cut the top from the garlic bulb, drizzle with olive oil, wrap in foil and bake for one hour until tender. Remove and squeeze garlic from the bulb and set aside. In another pot, combine cream, butter, salt, pepper and roasted garlic paste and bring to a simmer. Place potatoes with skin in boiling salted water, cook for 25 minutes until fork tender, remove and drain water while hot, peel potatoes and mash into the garlic cream mixture.
5. To make the lamb rosemary au jus, heat the oil in a small pan, over a medium-high heat. Add the shallots, garlic, rosemary and salt. Cook and stir. Add the stock, and heat to boiling. Reduce the heat to medium-low, and simmer until reduced. Remove from the heat and strain through a fine strainer. Place the carrots in a saucepan with enough water to cover them. Add the butter and granulated sugar; cook until all the water evaporates, and the butter and granulated sugar form a glaze.
6. Blanch the broccoli in salted water; remove, toss lightly with butter, salt and pepper. Serve hot. Garnish a serving plate with two quenelles of the potato purée. Arrange the broccoli and three baby carrots and the rack of lamb on the plate. Add the lamb jus. Decorate the plate with rosemary and thyme bouquet.
